CHICAGO SUSPENDS TRADING IN GRAIN FUTURES

Out Of The Gloaming.

"At a formal meeting of several prominent citizens of Nagpur," says our correspondent, "held to consider the proposal for a memorial to H. E. Sir Montagu Butler, the retiring Governor of C.P., Mr. S. B. Tambe, who held office as Home Member during Sir Montagu's regime opposed the same tooth and nail."

It would have been better if he had used a lathi.

* * * *

"He (Lord Burnham) was one of the most popular members of the Simon Commission during its tour of this country."—thus the Old Lady, shedding tears over the death of the Old Tory.

It's a nice question, who was the most popular member of the Simon Commission. We loved them all so much.

* * * *

"Is Britain playing fair? Let Britain answer," writes the "F.P.J." with that moral exaltation peculiarly its own. Lord Salisbury answered the question the other day, quite frankly and bluntly, in the negative.

* * * *

It was quite superfluous, but he had to do his duty. And he did it. These Cecils live on their traditions and the Empire and they have not done badly out of it either. What if a few promises are broken?

* * * *

Talking about traditions. Indians are not to be beaten at this game. Sir Mahomed Yakub is carrying on his garlanding traditions in England, which he began in India long long ago with so much advantage to himself.

* * * *

But Bombay, as the second city in the Empire, was also not to be beaten, and it rose sublimely to the occasion. Sir Pheroze Sethna delivered one of those eloquent stock speeches, with a few alterations to suit the occasion, prasing Sir Samuel for his "services" to India.

* * * *

It is said that a country gets the government it deserves, and let us also add the Secretary of State it deserves. But the insurance knight spoke from a higher plane and referred to the "divine dispensation" which had brought India and Great Britain together, —Shades of Waren Hastings and Clive!

* * * *

He would not however, refer to grossly material things like safeguards, British Investments, allowances to the Services, or Insurance Agencies and match companies. But high finance always goes with religion—in public!

* * * *

"We shall advance together in future with greater glory and advancement of both," he said and called up the coping stone stunt to round off an inspiring speech. It ought to insure his future and light a match for his greater glory.

* * * *

But Sir Sammy Hoare was not to be beaten in plain speaking and hoped that when they parted company and each went his way "there will be no doubt that they know my mind and that I know theirs" (applause). Why pursue the painful subject any further. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

* * * *

"All this fuss in the Select Committee about India's political goal is in reality a storm in a tea-cup," writes the Old Woman. So entirely irrelevant. Eh, what?

* * * *

"Another Indian, this time one student from Bengal, Mr. Manindra Nath Sen, was served with an order from the Berlin police to leave Germany within a week, on the pretext that he is regarded as an inimical foreigner."—Berlin correspondent of "Advance".

Don't believe these interested parties. Another Bengali,—and a son of Satish Chander Bose (brother of Subhas)—said recently that Indian students are treated more courteously in Germany,—more than anywhere in the world.

SEQUEL TO HUGE FALL IN WHEAT PIT

Prices Plunge Below Dollar Line

SEVERAL TOWNS FOLLOW CHICAGO'S EXAMPLE

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

CHICAGO, July 21.

The Board of Trade has suspended trading in grains and provision futures following yesterday's remarkable stampede in wheat pit when prices registered the worst fall of the year and plunged below the dollar line, closing 14 to 17 points down.

Rye fell 26 points, Maize 13 and cotton 72 to 80 cents.

It is stated the suspension was voluntary and followed a series of emergency meetings held in order "to afford relief to Commission House employees who had worked day and night for several weeks."

Kansas City has taken a similar action and also approved of restriction on price fluctuations, indefinitely.

MINNEAPOLIS—Duluth has ordered limits as follows:—For Wheat 8, Rye 8 and Barley 5 and for Corn 5, Oats 4 and Flaxseed 15.

WINNIPEGS—The Grain Market was stampeded under heavy stop-loss orders and lollars wheat has vanished.

December futures touched 82 cents per bushel.

ROOSEVELT INTENDS TO ACT RESOLUTELY.

NEW YORK, July 21.

The suspension of trading in grain futures is operative today only.

It is understood President Roosevelt intends to act resolutely if speculation endangers the industrial recovery programme.

FURTHER COLLAPSE IN COTTON

Bull Operators Challenge Roosevelt's Inflationary Policy

(From Our Commercial Correspondent.)

Bombay, July 21.
11 P.M.

The phenomenal decline which was noticeable for the last two days, was continued to-day with enormous liquidations in Cotton.

It appears that powerful Wall Street operators, have lost all confidence in inflationary policy adopted by the Washington Administration.

As a matter of fact, President Roosevelt, who has armed himself with exceptional powers to deal with the situation is challenged by Bull Operators.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE.

Cotton prices on the New York Cotton Exchange opened to-day at a rise of 3 points. In the absence of professional selling, outside operators began to buy, and prices recorded a rise of 22 points before noon. As soon as the demand was satisfied, professional operators rushed with orders of unlimited selling. Prices began to give way, and as soon as it was known that the Bull operators were selling out their cotton considerable nervousness prevailed. Prices collapsed 115 points and the market was left to the mercy of Bears. At this level, there was absence of selling and with short covering prices rallied about 35 points from the lowest level. Thus within a short period of 48 hours, cotton prices declined over 2 cents per lb.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.

The Liverpool Market opened at a decline of 15 points and and closed at a decline of 17 points.

The Dollar Cross-rate after advancing to 4.71 declined to 4.65-14. France was quoted at 85 54

The 3-1/2 per cent Indian Sterling Loan was quoted unchanged at £82 on the London Stock Exchange.

In sympathy with easier New York advices, prices in the local cotton market declined to Rs. 223 for Broach April-May delivery.

The London Silver Market was quiet and closed unchanged.

Spot Silver 18-1/8, and Forward 18-1/4d.

Quotations in the Bombay Market were as under:—

Ready Silver	56	2	0
Shravan	56	3	0
Bhadrava	56	6	0
Shravan Gold	30	12	6
Bhadrava Gold	30	13	0
Sovereign	19	13	6

SURPRISE AT ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

New Proposals From Senator C. Hull Announced

AUSTRALIA'S WAIL

Stress On Question Of Limitation Of Production Deplored

LONDON, July 21.

A surprise was caused at the outset of the plenary meeting of Economic Commission of the World Economic Conference today, when President Colijn announced that he had received a letter and new proposals from Senator Cordell Hull, who hoped that during the recess, the interested Governments would submit substantial proposals to achieve ultimately the fundamental purpose of the Conference.

MR. HULL'S SCHEME

Mr. Hull proceeded to outline a possible agreement for a protracted truce against restrictions on International trade, and declared that American policy was generally to seek to further International commerce to the fullest possible extent compatible with the essential aims of its programme.

Mr. Bruce said that Australia very much regretted that there should have been in the Conference such a concentration upon the question of limitation of production, because she did not believe that the real object of the Conference, namely, raising prices, could possibly be achieved by restriction of production.

Australia's view was that for the conference to have achieved nothing except limitation of production or plans to that end was an admission of failure.—Reuter.

TARIFFS LOWERING

Important Results Obtained

LONDON, July 21.

When the plenary session of the Economic Commission meets at 4 p.m., it will be faced with a 34 page report embodying the reports of all Sub-Committees dealing with the basic questions of commercial policy, export bonuses, marks of origin and co-ordination of production.

LOWERING OF TARIFFS.

Mr. Runciman, rapporteur of the Commission, states that the debates have shown various countries unanimously consider the lowering of excessive tariffs absolutely indispensable; and, therefore, there are good grounds for hoping that once the special circumstances have disappeared which are responsible for adjournment of a part of the Conference's work, it will be possible successfully to initiate, on international lines, a progressive lowering of economic barriers.

IMPORTANT RESULTS.

Mr. Runciman adds naturally the delegates could not hope, in a short time, to reach definite agreements as regards the products under consideration, but it has been possible, in almost all cases, to obtain important results which normally would have taken several years.

DATE OF REASSEMBLY UNCERTAIN.

Nobody is prepared to prophesy the date of reassembly, but the permanent instrument, after adjournment, is expected to be the Council of Ambassadors similar to the expedient adopted after the War to supervise execution of the Peace Treaty.

In the meantime, it is the opinion that a temporary failure will have the very effect that the Conference was designed to mitigate, namely, intensification of nationalistic economic warfare.—Reuter.

No Split Between Aney & Gandhiji

Acting Congress President Contradicts "Mischievous Report" From Bori Bunder

(From Our Correspondent)

NAGPUR, July 21.

Mr. Aney, the Acting Congress President arrived here this morning from Nasik.

Interviewed he said that he would stay here for a couple of days, leaving for Yeotmal on Sunday.

He denied that there was any split between him and Gandhiji and characterised the "Times of India" report as mischievous.

He will issue the promised statement on future programme this evening.

AMERICAN CONDEMNS INDIA'S CASTE SYSTEM

Mahatma's Slashing Reply: Fast Is Intended To Help Removal Of Untouchability: "Gross Libel" To Describe India's Insanitation As Nauseating Filth

POONA, July 21.

Writing editorially in the current issue of the "Harijan" Gandhiji quotes extensively an American correspondent, who, he says, probably represents the majority opinion in the West on his recent fast, and answers the points raised by him.

The correspondent states:—"India still remains in Pagan darkness, the caste system being the greatest sore spot on the modern world." The answer to this is certainly not a fast of whatever duration by a lone man of whatever sincerity, a man who late in life took off his clothes and walked barefoot through London streets. That smacks too much of some of the grosser forms of the American publicity methods."

"NAUSEATING FILTH"

Proceeding he states: "The start for raising the lower castes must be made from within themselves," and refers to "the nauseating filth in which millions of your people live and to the pagan religious rites of torturing the body for the liberation of the soul."

He adds that was told, on good authority, that "Mother India" by Miss Katherine Mayo compilation of facts "so horrible that I have known cases of extreme illness from reading it."

MAHATMA'S REPLY

Replying Gandhiji says that the correspondent does not seem to know what the caste system is. The evil of it is foreign to the original, and could be removed as it is being removed. The fast which the writer belittles was intented to help the movement for the removal of untouchability and Gandhiji states: "I must not be moved by writers mixing up the fast and my mode of dress with grosser forms of American publicity methods. The proof of pudding will be in the eating."

"GROSS LIBEL"

Proceeding, Gandhiji states that to describe our unsanitation as nauseating filth is "a Gross Libel".

Referring to "Mother India," Gandhiji says: "I must pass by Miss Katherine Mayo, and the unknown cases of extreme illness from reading her production. One could but pity the readers,—if such there were,—who made themselves sick by reading a book which opened the drains of India and made the readers believe that they were India."—A.P.

"OBSTINACY OF CONGRESS"

'Servant Of India' Sums Up "Typical Mentality"

STRENGTH OF GOVT.

"Viceroy Not Slow To Grasp Realities Of Situation"

POONA, July 21.

"Between the obstinacy of the Congress and the small-mindedness of the Government, a great opportunity has been lost, and the country has been doomed to a further period of turmoil" says "The Servant of India" the official organ of Servants of India Society in the course of an article on the recent Congress Conference and after events.

LESSONS OF CONFERENCE

The article says: "To ask to be let out when in jail, and to be put back when out,—this seems to sum up the typical Congress mentality. The recent Poona Conference has proved that the Congress, if it means to live long and win freedom for the people, must regard civil disobedience not as an immutable article of religious faith, but as a mere code of strategy to be adopted or discarded as circumstances may require."

"To the Mahatma it is a law of life but all people cannot afford, in pursuit of secular ends, to be governed by such high idealism. The Congress in adhering, without deviation, to the present course has shown itself incapable of adaptation to circumstances or to fresh lines of activity. Indeed while there is much to commend in the discipline of its ranks, the continuance of Mahatma Gandhi's dictatorship cannot be regarded as a healthy sign, in as much as it indicates that fertility of counsel and independence of thought have been stifled."

Proceeding the article points out how Government, even by putting forth a little of its strength has succeeded in crushing the movement and adds "Unfortunately the statesmanship and generosity of the Government are by no means equal to its strength. Mahatma Gandhi's wish for peace is real and constant and if the Viceroy did but care, he would have found in him one, who is not slow to grasp the realities of situation and who is willing to make every allowance for the responsibilities and difficulties of the Government".—A.P.

BRIDGE COLLAPSE FATALITIES

CALCUTTA, July 21.

Two persons were killed and several injured this afternoon when an old bridge over the Krishnapore Canal in the Northern suburb of Calcutta collapsed with a loud noise.

The bridge, it appears, was being dismantled by the contractors, coolies, five of whom with the supervisor were working, when the accident occurred and the men were thrown into the water below.

The fire brigade and police helped by the people of the locality extricated several persons from the debris. Two are missing and are believed to be still buried in the debris in the water.—A. P.

NOTHING LOST BY EXCHANGE OF VIEWS

Maharashtra Chamber's Appeal To Viceroy To Grant Interview To Gandhiji

The following is a copy of the statement of views of the Committee of the Maharashtra Chamber of Commerce on the present political situation:—

The Committee of the Maharashtra Chamber of Commerce find that unfortunately enough, the impasse in the political situation in the country still continues and that it has not been possible so far, to find a way out of it. The Committee are of opinion that, His Excellency the Viceroy could have graciously granted the interview asked for by Mahatma Gandhi and heard him instead of electing to take the present course Nothing could have lost, if a free exchange of views had taken place between His Excelency the Viceroy and Mahatma Gandhi. The effects of uncertainty in the political situation are bad enough and its continuance cannot certainly be viewed with equanimity by the Commercial Community. The Committee trust that better counsels still prevail and the gulf existing between the Government and the Congress is early bridged.

The Committee consider that the Congress, being the most important political party in the country can be ill-ignored if smooth working is to be assured to the new constitution. The Committee hope that the Viceroy will uphold the tradition of the Liberal party to which he belongs and create good will and peace in the country by granting the request of Mahatma Gandhi for an interview, when he is anxious to make peace.

UNDISCHARGED INSOLVENT JAILED FOR CHEATING

"Spencer" Conceals His Two Previous Convictions And Gets Maximum Sentence

Framroze J. Spencer, alias, F. J Nanpoorea, a Parsi, Astrologer, Palmist, Tipster, Cotton Expert and an undischarged insolvent, who had adopted every possible means to delay the course of justice by pleading for one more chance in life, was sentenced to four months' rigorous imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs 150, in default one month's rigorous imprisonment by Mr. Oscar Brown Presidency Magistrate, Third Court, Bombay, on Friday.

"CONTEMPTIBLE."

In passing sentence, the Magistrate observed that the conduct of the accused was most contemptible He had deliberately obtained adjournment after adjournment to avoid the progress of the case. Now that the accused was convicted insatead of facing the sentence like a man, the accused was whinning and overstepping the sympathy shown to the accused by the court.

The accused made a further application, before sentence was passed, to adjourn the case for two days to enable him to make a declaration of marriage before the Chief Presidency Magistrate Explaining his application, the accused stated that he wanted to marry the Parsi girl who had left her parents and had been living with him for the past one year. The application was rejected.

In this case, the accused was charged under Sec. 102 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act for obtaining Rs. 1045 from one Dhanpat Rai Ruramal Kashyap without disclosing that the accused was an undischarged insolvent.

RACE-TIPSTER & COTTON EXPERT?

The complainant in the case is a stenographer to the Judicial Commissioner Central Province, who came to Bombay on leave in December 1932. On reading an advertisement inserted by the accused, he saw the accused at Nawab Building, Hornby Road. The accused represented that he was a race tipster and a cotton expert and that if the complainant invested monies through the accused he stood to gain a large sum of money. The complainant entrusted to the accused Rs. 500 on Feb 1, for which the accused passed a receipt and also agreed to pay Rs. 10 per day as profit on the transactions, without affecting the capital invested.

On February 3 the complainant gave the accused a further sum of Rs. 200 and again on February 14 a sum of Rs. 200 was given to the accused making a total of Rs. 900. On February 18 the accused represented to the complainant that if some money was invested on the tips he was giving for the racing meeting of that day, he would make a profit of 25 per cent. The accused was given a sum of Rs. 145 to be invested as proposed by the complainant. The complainant alleged that he received in all Rs. 174 which the accused represented to him was his share of the profits. After the 18th February complainant was not paid any money by the way of profit by the accused.

UNDISCHARGED INSOLVENT.

The complainant then asked the accused to return the capital sum of Rs. 1045 which was entrusted to him. The accused failed to do so. The complainant then made certain inquiries and learnt that the accused was an undischarged insolvent. He then launched this prosecution under section 420 for cheating and under section 102 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act charging the accused for obtaining monies from him without disclosing the fact that he was an undischarged insolvent.

Mr. S A Shete appearing for the complainant withdrew the charge under section 420 and proceeded against the accused under section 102 only.

ACCUSED DENIES.

The accused in his statement denied the allegations and stated that he had passed the receipts to the complainant for the sums of money, as the complainant was a Government ...servant and therefore did not wish name to be mentioned. The sums of money, the accused alleged were actually paid to one Motilal. The accused admitted that he gave the complainant, race tips and cotton figures.

On the evidence the Magistrate framed a charge under section 102 against the accused and convicted him. The accused was asked if there were any previous convictions against him, he denied that there were any previous convictions.

TWO PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS.

Mr. V T Desai, Judical Clerk, stepped into the witness box and testified to two previous convictions in the First Class Magistrate's Court at Mhow.

The accused resisted and admitted the previous convictions.

The accused broke down and started whining. He pleaded that he should not be sent to jail as he was a young man and should be given another chance in life.

MAXIMUM SENTENCE

The Magistrate observed that the accused tried to cheat the court in concealing the previous convictions. His Worship was at first inclined to treat the accused as a first offender and bind him over, but his two previous convictions for cheating clearly proved that any leniency shown to the accused would be a miscarriage of justice. His Worship did not wish to be hard on the accused and give him the maximum sentence but desired to give the accused a deterrent sentence. The accused was sentenced as stated above.

to make peace.

VICTORIA DRIVER FINED RS. 200

Criminal Breach Of Trust

A fine of Rs. 200 or three months' imprisonment in default was the sentence inflicted upon Ismail Kasum, a victoria driver by Mr. I. N. Mehta, fourth Presidency Magistrate, on Friday, in a case of criminal breach of trust in respect of a gramophone.

It would appear that the complainant Trimbuk Murlidhar, a restaurant owner in the Surat District came down to Bombay on April 9 for the purpose of buying a new gramaphone after disposing of his old one.

On July 10 he took his old machine to a dealer at Girgaum and in exchange had a new one, in addition to a payment of Rs. 180. He then engaged a victoria to drive him to the Victoria Terminus as he was leaving for his native place. On the way he asked him to stop at the hotel where he had been temporarily staying in order to fetch his luggage. As he turned his back to go, he perceived the victoria being driven away. He called out to the driver to stop, but without effect. He had, however, the presence of mind to note down the number of the victoria. With this he lodged a complaint with the police who traced out the accused. In the course of their inquiries they learnt that he had sold it to another victoria driver. This man in turn had passed it on to Alli Haider Subdaralli, a cycle dealer, from whom the police finally recovered it.

The accused pleading guilty to the charge he was sentenced as above

PEOPLE RELIEVED BY COLLAPSE OF C. D. M.!

Why Income Of Registration Dept. Has Increased: Official Speculations

The Director of Information, Bombay writes:

According to the annual report of the Registration Department of the Bombay Presidency, the total number of registrations during 1932 was 278,392 against 265,049 during the preceding year, an increase of 13,347 deeds or 5 per cent.

The increase is attributed to various reasons. The District Registrar, Anmednagar, ascribes it to a slight improvement in trade, and an appreciable rise in the prices of agricultural produce.

The District Registrar, Broach, attributes it to the tightness of the money market which compelled people to borrow money on the security of their properties. "It is curious that the tightness of the money market which was once assigned as a reason for keeping the number of registrations low, is now considered to have the opposite effect," says the Inspector-General of Registration.

DUE TO COLLAPSE OF C. D.?

"The District Registrar, Kaira, states that the rise is due to partial collapse of the Civil Disobedience Movement, and the weak financial state of the public, which led them to enter into monetary transctions; while the District Registrar, Sholapur, says that the increase is due to gradual revival of normal conditions, and the disappearance of depression. This view appears correct. The Civil Diobedience Movement which once paralysed commerce has now practically disappeared, and this seems to be one of the various causes which have contributed to the increase. This is particularly noticeable in Bulsar regarding which the District Registrar, Surat says that the increase is due to the fact that people are now relieved of the harassment of non-co-operation, and Bardoli, once a hotbed of that movement, is now free from the agitation."

REGISTERED MARRIAGES

The number of Parsi marriages registered was 539. Of these, the Registrar of Marriages, High Court Bombay, alone registered 397.

The number of marriages registered under the Special Marriage Act III of 1872 was 67, the majority being in the Bombay office. In 1931 the number was 50.

During the year two more offices were brought under the photographic system. There are now in all 45 offices to which the photo system is extended and they annually registered about 108,006 documents.

INCREASED INCOME

The total income of the Department increased from Rs. 11 lakhs to Rs. 12 lakhs, the increase being due partly to enhanced fees and partly to the increase of documents while the expenditure decreased from 6 lakhs to Rs. 5-3/4 lakhs

STATES' PEOPLE'S RIGHTS

Bombay Session Must Be Strongly Supported By All

Messrs. Balwantraj Mehta and Kakalbhai Kothary, the General and Provincial Secretaries, Indian States' People's Conference, have issued the following appeal in connection with the fourth annual session of the Conference:—

The cause of the mute eighty millions of the States' people has always remained unchampioned.

This record and pace of work of the States' People's Conference must be maintained at any cost. And we are sure the people of the States, residing in British India as well as in the States, who are steadily awakening to the full consciousness of their rights and responsibilities, will now come forward to work for their own liberation.

The present juncture is a very critical one in the life of the Indian Nation, the States' people including. In our humble opinion, there never was a greater need for giving a definite lead to the people in the States than now.

MUSTER STRONG.

It is necessary that the States' People should take the fullest advantage of the opportunity before them and join the annual session of the Conference which meets on the 22nd and 23rd instant at Bombay. The Conference calls upon the representatives and the spokesmen of the States' people to muster strong in Bombay, for the Conference and pronounce their views and opinions on all important issues facing them.

The decision to hold the Conference has been taken and now the Conference sessions must be made as successful as the three preceeding ones. The circumstances in which this Conference meets are not at all encouraging. It is only the keen sense of duty on the part of the workers which has prompted them to undertake this great responsibility.

AN APPEAL.

The Conference work which is the States' People's work, must go on.

Messrs. Balvantrai Mehta and Kakalbhai Kothary have sent the following message to the Secretary of the Indian States Peoples' Conference:—

"Though unable to collaborate with you in body we believe our best thoughts and spirit are with you. Only friends like you and co-workers for years can imagine the intensity of our pain to-day, we having been denied the privilege to participate in the Conference whose humble servants we are and whose work is so near to our heart. We hope the Conference proceedings will show complete harmony with the best interests of the Motherland and maintain the glorious traditions of the Conference. COMMENCING TO-DAY

A Page About Pictures And The People Who Make Them

SHOWN ON THE SCREEN

CHARLES LAUGHTON AT PATHE

Probably the most outstanding addition to the screen during the past few years has been Charles Laughton. Everybody will remember him as Nero in "The Sign of the Cross" when he put up a most significant performance. There is no possible doubt that Charles Laughton is a marvellous actor and in "Devil and the Deep", the Paramount Super dramatic show which is being released to-day at Pathe Cinema, he overshadows even the great performances of the other actors in this picture.

The cast includes Tallulah Bankhead, Gary Cooper and Cary Grant, all of whom are a big attraction in themselves. The picture is one of the best which have been screened for some considerable time. It has a very strong romantic appeal, but in addition is full of action.

The scenes where a submarine is rammed and sinks is exceptionally fine work.

The picture is another version of the eternal triangle—a jealous husband who is a madman, a wife has always been true, and a man who did not know she was married. It is climaxed by sequences that are decidedly unusual.

The locale is a naval base on the shores of Africa, where Sturm (Charles Laughton) is the commander of a submarine. He is intensely jealous of his wife (Tallulah Bankhead) who he believes is continually having affairs with other men. It is evident that he is mistaken, but he treats her with insane cruelty and drive her out of the house. She meets

A scene from "The Devil and the Deep", starring Gary Cooper, Tallulah Bankhead and Charles Laughton, commencing to-day at the Pathe Cinema.

Lieutenant Semper (Gary Cooper), but does not know that he is a naval officer. Nor does he know that she is the wife of his commanding officer. They spend a night on the desert. Sturm is vividly suspicious. He knows that his wife is slipping from him.

The submarine is about to sail. Mrs. Sturm knows that her husband, in his mad jealousy, is planning something terrible. She rushes to the submarine to warn Semper. Sturm traps them in his cabin. Deliberately he causes a collision and the submarine sinks. Semper, convincing the crew that the commander had gone insane and had done this to wipe them all off the earth, takes command. Calling upon all the latest submarine life saving devices he sends the crew, Mrs. Sturm and himself to safety, while Sturm perishes.

Betty Boop again appears in the programme in "Betty Boop Limited", one of the best which we have yet seen.

MUSICAL EXTRAVAGANZA AT THE ROXY

"Letting in the Sunshine," an entertaining comedy and musical extravaganza which has been drawing appreciative audiences at the Roxy since its opening last Thursday will be continued for a few days more.

Albert Burdon, the popular comedian who starred in "Maid of the Mountains" is again featured in a story which recounts the adventures and misadventures of a window-dresser. Renee Gadd, another star, gives a fine treat of music, while the lovely Molly Lamount will be seen in a fine exhibition of a speciality dance. Lupino Lane whose directorial skill has given us many big productions, has also directed this picture which is one scream of laughs from start to finish.

"THE MASK OF FU MANCHU"

Thriller To Be Shown At Capitol

Sax Rohmer's well-known mystery "The Mask of Dr. Fu Manchu" which has been filmed by Metro-Goldwyn Mayer, will be released at the Capitol to-day. This talkie can be described as a rare thriller and will shock sensitive souls, who etest cruelty even on the screen

To Boris Karloff falls task of representing Dr. Fu Manchu, who is depicted worse than the devil incarnate. The story is familiar to many people, but they will be amazed at the technical skill displayed in presenting the correct atmosphere of Rohmer's remarkable story. Karloff's astounding make-up fits the sinister role adopted by this versatile actor.

The dramatic thrills include the kidnapping of a scientist and his shipment to Shanghai in a mummy case. "The bell torture" scene where the victim is strapped under a giant bell, the clanging sounds of which drive him mad in the end. Dr. Fu Manchu's laboratory where artificial lightning charges are produced to test the genuiness of Ghengis Khan's sword.

Lewis Stone as a Scotland Yard detective, performs his part with his customary "sang froid." Myrna Loy as Fah Lo See the doctor's daughter has not much to do. Karen Morley and Charles Starrett, play the romantic roles with distinction.

The spectacular scenes will make a great appeal to Indian film fans. The feast of the Mongols, the Hall of the Buddhas and the grandeur of Ghengis Khan's tomb, are artistic triumphs.

Charles Brabin who has directed this film has made a good job of it, and has taken great pains to emphasise the scorn Europeans. I must confess that I felt a sneaking regard for Dr. Fu Manchu, and don't blame him for being so naughty a la Rohmer.

R. I. D.

RONALD COLMAN IN "CYNARA" AT WELLINGTON

Cynara, one of the most dramatic pictures with an intellectual appeal, comes to the Wellington Talkies, Dhobi Talao, from Saturday. It is a United Artists Production featuring Ronald Colman, the suave and polished actor of many screen-successes, the beautiful and sophisticated Miss Kay Francis and Miss Phyllis Barry, a new-comer, who displays unusual dramatic powers.

Samuel Goldwyn has combined the best resources of talents and technical skill to bring to the screen an international stage-success. The story is built around the "eternal triangle" which is presented from a new angle that is at once intriguing and appealing. It is crammed full of situations that are alive with a rare realism and deep poignancy, rising to the heights of tragic pathos Colman does full justice to the exacting role of an English barrister who, much against his better judgment, is drawn by his friend into what is called a harmless flirtation but which develops into a serious affair, especially for the other girl. The conflict of loyalty to his devoted wife and the irresistible attractio to his new love is very dramatically portrayed with a power and effectiveness rarely seen on the screen. In the role of the unsuspecting wife, Kay Francis gives a finished performance.

NEW TALKIE CINEMA

Edward Talkies Showing "Tarzan The Apeman"

From Yesterday (Friday) one more is added to the talkie-cinemas of the City. This is the Edward Talkies at Kalbadevi Road, Dhobi Talao, which, under the management of Messrs M. B. Billimoria and B. D. Bharucha, will be showing select American talkies of such well-known companies as Metro-Goldwyn, Paramount Universal etc. To ensure satisfactory sound production, an R. C. A. double machine has been installed. Among the forthcoming attractions here are "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde", "Sign of the Cross", "One Hour with you", "Love Parade", "Blonde Venus", "Movie Crazie", "Night Court" and many others. This theatre claims to offer the cheapest-priced seats.

The opening picture this week is Metro-Godwlyn's jungle thriller "Tarzan the Ape Man" which has been one of the record-breaking pictures in this city. Johny Weissmuller, world's champion-swimmer, and Maureen O'-Sullivan are the principal stars in this drama which is replete with many thrills.

"BRANDED OATH" AT WEST END TALKIES

Prabhat Cinetone's popular talkie "Branded Oath" in Marathi will be shown for one week only at the West End Talkies, Lamington Road.

The title is suggestive of the intriguing nature of the plot. Owing to the treachery of the "Senapati" in a state, the King is foully murdered and his queen with her minor son takes refuge under the roof of a shepherd. As a reminder of her oath to take revenge on the scoundrel who brought ruin upon her family she brands her hand every year. When her son reaches the age of 20, he dissuades her from the ordeal and promises to fulfill her vow at any cost. Then follow a series of complicated circumstances in which the prince developes a romance with the prime Minister's beautiful daughter and encounter some unfortunate experiences at the hands of the Senapati. The climax is as surprising as it is thrilling and interesting. Miss Lila, with a delicate charm, enacts the principal feminine role while others in the cast are Vinayak and Pendharkar.

'MISS 1933' AT IMPERIAL

The Ranjit Movietone have made a name for the high standard of their production, and their crowning success "Miss 1933" will be seen this week at the Imperial Cinema, Lamington Road.

Miss Gowhar, who is noted for her fine dramatic powers has the role of an ultra-modern Indian girl called "Miss 1933". Though thoroughly Westernised so far as education and outlook are concerned, she preserves the high ideals of Indian womanhood. As the central figure in the plot, she displays a well-balanced combination of the two cultures. She represents the new type of woman of modern India who discards the orthodox idea of slavery in matrimonial life, yet insists on independence and dignity as the equal partner of her husband without claiming the unrestrained license which is often associated with the freedom of Western women.

Besides Miss Gowhar, the cast includes Eddie Billimoria, Kekl Adajania, Dixit and Ghory,—all players of established repute. Mr. Chandulal Shah has impressed the stamp of his artistry on every part of the picture which reaches a high standard of artistic and technical merit under his capable directorship. The success of the sound-recording is due to the skill of the sound-engineer, Mr. Jamnadas Subedar. Both for entertainment and instruction, the picture is well worth a visit.

An Indian Sees Hollywood

Famous Stars At Work: Earthquake And An Exciting Experience: American Friendliness Towards Indians

By R. K. S. Irani.

Last November, I was asked by Shri Meher Baba to go to Hollywood where he was to break his silence in the beginning of this year. Somehow or other he changed his plans and instead of America he intends to speak in England.

During these few months' stay at Hollywood I made it a point to see the working of the film studios, as much as possible. The doors of the studios are zealously guarded against all strangers. Visitors are only allowed through the recommendation of officials of the Studios. No outsiders are allowed on the lots. I was exceptionally fortunate to get into one of the measure studios as one of the employees. A friend of mine managed to get me a voluntary job and I sneaked in

FILMS IN THE MAKING.

I was on the lot when Gene Raymond was acting in the new picture of "Zoo in Budapest" under the direction of Lee. I also met Frank Lloyd, the director of "Cavalcade." His picture was just finished then and he went on a two months' holiday. I saw Jenet Gaynor working in the picture "Adorable." I also had an opportunity to visit Metro Goldwyn studios. I was introduced to pretty Miss Marian Hopkins, at whose beautiful residence I lunched once.

EARTHQUAKE.

I met Miss Helen Freeman. At the time when the earthquake started shaking Los Angeles I was at Miss Freeman's residence with a friend. She was trying to light the fire when the earthquake started. We all ran out of the house into the crowded streets. Although Hollywood did not suffer any apparent loss from the quake, yet many of its beautiful houses received bad shaking. The house in which I was staying on the Hollywood hills got a few cracks in the walls and the doors got loosened from the joints.

I had also an opportunity to visit Paramount studios, where Maurice Chevalier was working in his famous picture, "Bed Time Story." I also visited other small studios and made arrangement with one of them to release an Indian picture touching the present social life of India.

A VISIT FROM BANDITS.

On New Year's day, I had a very exciting experience. Two men entered our house with revolvers in their hands. They were so well dressed that I mistook them for some visitors. We were about six in the house. They came near me and ordered me to hold my hands up. I had twenty dollar (gold) bills in my waist pocket and I was not very willing to part with them. It may be my unwillingness or it may be the anger on my face, whatever it was, the men got scared and left me without taking any money. They raffled the pockets of another gentleman in the party. He had only a dime. They flung this coin on the ground. One of the ladies had a diamond ring on her finger. She had presence of mind to drop this ring quietly before the bandits had a chance to see it. Anyhow, the bandits went away without any much luck as for cash was concerned, but they

SCREEN TOPICS

ELISSA LANDI, DANSEUSE

Great things are expected of the new Elissa Landi-Warner Baxter picture, "I Loved You Wednesday." The fact that Henry King is directing it is one of the best reasons for such optimism. Henry was responsible for "State Fair," which will certainly rank high among the best films of the year.

Elissa plays the role of a premiere ballerina, and a "Dance of the Maidens" ballet, said to be one of the most spectacular dance sequences ever filmed in Hollywood, will provide one of the high lights.

WHAT ABOUT RAMON?

Most production companies are toying with ideas for costume drama, and it will occasion no surprise that M.-G.-M. have decided to make a talkie version of "The Prisoner of Zenda". The leading roles have been assigned to Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. Jeanette is an old friend and favourite, but this will be Mr. Eddy's first appearance in a feature production. He has been prominently identified with the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company for several years.

There must be many Ramon Novarro fans who will wonder why he was not given the part. He, Alice, Terry, and Lewis Stone were the leading players in the old M.-G.-M. silent version.

Poor Ramon. He doesn't seem to get now nearly the parts he deserves.

THE LIGHT FANTASTIC

Dancing, of a very graceful are making with Charles Laughton as the wife-ridden monarch. Espinosa the ballet master, has been in daily attendance at the studio training the ladies-in-waiting and courtiers in the intricate period dancing. The most popular dance consists of half of the Parvane des Epees and half of the Gaillarde, which was a great favourite with Henry VII. In the Parvane the men swear fealty to their ladies, who in turn make them knights by giving them the accolade with sort, will also be a feature in "The Private Life of Henry VIII, which the London Film Productions their partners' swords. The Gaillarde is in quick time.

The music to the dances was composed by the Canon of Langres, Thoinot Arbeau, in the early sixteenth century. These dances will be performed in the "Grand Hall" of Hampton Court.

GARBO FINDS HER "IDEAL" PART.

Greta Garbo has found what she considers to be her ideal part in "Queen Christina", according to reports from Hollywood where the Swedish star is about to start work on the M.-G.-M. film story of her famous countrywoman. She has had the story in mind for several years and personally collected material for the picture during her recent holiday in Stockholm.

Christina, who has been described as the Swedish Queen Elizabeth, ascended the throne at the age of six and played a dominant part in international politics until she abdicated and left the country in male attire, to lead an unconventional life abroad. The screen play will show the Queen at the height of her power at court and on the battlefield.

Though many famous actors have been tested, no decision has yet been made as to who will play the handsome Spanish envoy to whom Christina, in the film, loses her heart.

"ENGLISH GIRLS ARE FRUMPS"

Clara Bow has been writing her impressions of England and the English people for the benefit of her American admirers.

They say England is a man's country, she declares in "Photoplay." "From what I saw on my first day in London, I'll say it's so. The men you see strolling down the streets sure have class. But the women . . . ! Big feet, big hands, no make-up to speak of, and the frumpiest clothes!

She was wearing a dress that my washerwoman on the ranch would have turned up her nose at.

"It's always damp and wet and horrible in London. But in the private houses they haven't any central heating, only fireplaces. Usually the head of the family (England is a man's country) keeps the heat out of the rest of the room by standing with his back to the fireplace, so the women have to get used to the cold. Maybe that's why their hands are so red, and their cheeks too. They wear 'woollies' —ugh!'"

"I saw an old lady who looked like a mid-Victorian Duchess.

FIFTY MILES OF FILM.

With the arrival shortly of the long-awaited "Thunder Over Mexico", directed by Sergei Eisenstein, who is the darling of the film high-brows, we shall witness another die hard bid to re-establish silents.

In its original form Mr. Eisenstein's opus must have broken all the records for length.

Von Stroheim has been known to hand over fifty reels or so when he has finished directing and editing a picture, and Von Sternberg shot some 100,000 feet in making "Blonde Venus."

But "Thunder Over Mexico" arrived in Hollywood in no fewer than 2,850 cans. It was 54 miles long!

In the meanwhile Mr. Eisenstein had been denied admittance by the American immigration authorities.

To make matters worse, Upton Sinclair, the author, who had secured the finance for the director's expedition to the Mayan country, found when he came to print the negatives that there were no "slates" or identifying marks to indicate the order of the scenes.

The truckloads of film was taken round the various studios, but nobody would atttempt the job of putting the picture into coherent form.

Eventually, Harry Chandlee, Jesse Lasky's story editor, undertook the task.

He spent days reviewing the film's mileage and eventually emerged with 40,000 feet on which to work.

With this and a two-page memorandum written by Mr. Eisenstein he succeeded in making a 6,000-foot picture.

CHILD WELFARE IN BARODA

The ninth annual report of the Maharani Chimnabai Maternity and Child Welfare League of Baroda for the year 1932 bears ample testimony to the good work done by this association. The League maintains four Baby Clinic Centres, which gave relief to nearly 4,500 women and 783 babies during the year. Its Lady Health Visitors visited different areas in the city and gave free medical advice and other aid to 941 expectant mothers and 1,720 lying-in-women. It conducted an elaborate medical inspection of schools and inspected as many as 7,822 children. It is a pity, however, that owing to financial stringency the League does not yet possess a Maternity Home of its own. The Baroda State, the local Municipality and the public should not find it difficult to provide adequate funds for an essential part of a Maternity and Child Welfare League.

Madras.—Mr. Kalyanasundaram Iyer, Assistant Commissioner, Crimes Branch, assisted by Inspector Ahmed, arrested three youths this afternoon from a restaurant inside the Moore market. They also seized a revolver and five cartridges.—A.P.

took away a radio from the living room, which was luckily insured.

HOSPITABLE AMERICANS.

I found the Americans very hospitable. They are very greatly interested in the welfare of India. Although they have strict migration rules, yet the people are very sympathetic towards us. We cannot blame them much for making rules against us, when the Colonies of the Empire to which we belong shut their doors against us. Indians abroad suffer a great deal on account of the weakness of the Government at home. Every Indian abroad feels the effects of this. I met several Indian farmers in California. It is stated that they are not allowed to take their wives or any other members there. I don't know definitely how far that is true. I wonder why those great men who adorn the seats in the Councils do not take up this question in right earnest.

Anyway inside America one feels a friendly atmosphere. Our philosophy interests them a great deal. A few Indian Swamis have quite a large following, although these Swamis are really not what they should be.

PREVAILING DEPRESSION.

At present depression makes itself felt very keenly there. More than once on fashionable boulevards I met young fellows who asked for a dime. I would not believe my ears when one day a well dressed young man passed me. I was walking with a lady, he asked swiftly for some money. I did not hear clearly and so I asked my companion what he said. She said he wanted money. "No," I said, "a well dressed man as he is could not beg. I will make sure."I stopped and called that fellow. He turned round and came up, but true enough he said he was hungry and wanted some money for a meal. Of course they have no professional beggars as we have swarming in our cities.

Hollywood is charming but its charm is gorgeous from a distance. None of our young fools should go there with an idea of getting training. Many such young heads go there from all parts of the world only to meet disappointment.

STOCK EXCHANGE RALLIES

On the Stock Exchange, although sentiment somewhat was shaken by overnight slump in America, the tendency subsequently improved and compared to yesterday no serious fall was noticeable. Kaffirs, particularly maintained a very firm tone. Among commodities, wheat relapsed heavily in sympathy with Chicago; others though easier, recovered from the worst, while rubber advanced appreciably during the day. Wall Street opened nervous and irregular, and later rallied briskly.—Reuter.

"TUMOUR MAY EVEN MEAN A BABY"

Dr. Erachshaw's Sensational Interpretation In Khoja Girl's Inquest

At the resumption of the Coroner's Inquest on Friday touching the deaths of a Khoja girl Jainabi and a male child, Dr. Nunan, to a question from the Coroner, opined that the cause of Jainabi's death was excessive haemorrhage and exhaustion due to labour in an unhealthy woman. It was not due to the retention of the placenta which remained in the womb due to the occurrence of death.

Dr. Erachshaw continuing his evidence stated that a death certificate was asked for by the Municipality, a week after the death of Jainabi.

Coroner: Had you any suspicions on the three or four occasions she had been brought to you that she was 'en ciente'?

Witness: Yes. I strongly suspected so.

BELLY UPON BELLY.

He said he told the parents definitely about this. He was not told by the parents at any time that the girl was pregnant but only that she was suffering from tumour. From the history of the girl he thought it to be a case of tumour. He did not prescribe any medicine for tumour. He told them that the case was not to be trifled with and treated at home. When he saw he girl prior to her death, he had advised the parents to remove her at once to hospital in an ambulance. Her abdomen was more enlarged than it was before.

Adding he said: "She was so fat that on top of one belly, there was another belly" (Loud Laughter.)

Coroner: Do you realise that I have a more serious duty to perform?

As the Coroner was questioning the witness regarding his statement to the police, Mr. Janai objected to these questions, because he feared that witness being a prosecution witness his statements in this connection were likely to prejudice the jury.

MEANING OF TUMOUR.

Coroner.—You definitely stated in the certificate that she died of a tumour?

Wit. By Tumour I mean that it may be an enlarged tissue or even a baby according to my dictionary (laughter again).

The girl was brought to him 3 or 4 days after his return from Mahableswar on the 11th. The last time he saw her she had pain all over the abdomen. He remained in the room for about five minutes. He could not say whether the pain was intermittent.

SERIOUSNESS OF IT.

Dr. Nunan. Did you realise how dangerous it was to issue such a death certificate in spite of your long experience as a medical man, having attended medical jurisprudence lectures and read books?

Wit.—Yes ...

Dr. N.—Did you realise that if the police had not discovered the body of the child it would have been recorded as a case of infanticide?

Witness—I issued the certificate before delivery. Coroner interrupting said: Do you mean to say that you issued the certificate before the girl died? (laughter).

Explaining himself he said that somebody came to him in the morning and told him that Jainabi had died. He was not told whether she had delivered or that the child was murdered.

The Coroner here read out the death-certificate issued by witness to the parents. He did not use printed forms for death certificates, and this could not be classified as a certificate.

Dr Nunan—Do you realise that the girl was buried without a death certificate?

Witness:—Yes.

Dr. Hakim's son, who is also a doctor then deposed that he had seen Dr. Nunan on July 3 at about 11-30 a.m. in order to ascertain whether his father, who was unregistered, was right in issuing the death certificate. He was alone with Dr. Nunan at the time. Dr. Nunan had told him there was nothing to fear if his father had issued the certificate in good faith.

CERTIFICATE TO FOLLOW.

Ramachandra Abaji Gogle, Municipal Ramosi, deposed that on July 1, at 8-30 a.m. Hashan Fazal, the father of the girl, came to him and asked for a "mayat pass," for a person who had died at Khadak. Witness then accompanied him to his place which was outside his jurisdiction. So he advised Heshanbhai to go to Pydhonie Road Ramoshi, but the latter told witness that there was no ramoshi there. Witness consented to issue a pass on the production of a doctor's certificate. Hashanbhai told him that the doctor's certificate would follow shortly. At this, witness made the necessary entries regarding name, age and other particulars in his registration book. Witness then issued the pass without seeing the body.

BURIAL PASS.

Kazi Hassan Mia Kamruddin, the clerk of the Aram Bagh Cemetery at Mount Road, next giving evidence said that at about 11-15 a.m. on July 1, one Ghulamhusein Giga, brought the Ramoshi's pass to him. He made entries in his office form and was told that the cause of death was dyarrhoea. He told him that without a doctor's certificate the body could not be buried. He then went away but returned after 10 minutes, and told him that a certificate from Dr. Ardeshir had been already given to Ramoshi No. 3. Witness then gave the burial pass upon obtaining Gulamhusein's signature on the death report as well as the cemetery register.

Gulamhusein Giga, the last witness, a bill collector of Khoja Musjid in Palla Gully said that Hashan Fazal came to him on July 1 at 7 a.m. and told him that his daughter aged 20 had died of diarrhoea. Later he went to Hashan's house and after taking the "mayat pass" from the Municipal Ramoshi he went to the cemetery for making arrangements of burial. He signed the death report.

TREATED WELL-KNOWN PATIENTS.

Dr. Ardeshir Hakim, in his evidence further, stated that his father Dr. Erachshaw Hakim had treated well-known men, such as Sir Ebrahim Rahimtoola, Sir Fazulbhoy Karimbhai and his family, and many such others.

Coroner:—Can you give still better names?

Dr. Ardeshir retorted that his father had treated judges of the High Court.

Jury's verdict will be delivered on Monday.

WILL JAYAKAR RETURN TO INDIA?

Says He Is Disappointed With "Joint" But Will Not Drop Out Light-heartedly

(From Our Correspondent.)

LONDON, (By Air Mail.)
July 8.

A sympathetic audience heard Mr. M. R. Jayakar, one of the delegates to the Joint Select Committee on India's Constitutional Reforms, at the Friends House on Tuesday, July 4, when the speaker told his listeners "What Indians Ask For".

"What we want said Mr. Jayakar 'is a subject matter of several years'." It has been a subject matter of several resolutions since 1923 even in the toy legislatures that we have been given as a result of the Montague-Chelmsford Reforms. All that matters most is the justice of the position, the spirit of give and take, the spirit of good will and mutual understanding."

"We had hopes of achieving this task through the instrumentality of the Round Table Conference. Mind you, I deliberately say we had hopes of this accomplishment. Now I have no such hope. Even my countrymen were curious as well as querrulous over our coming to London for the sessions of the Round Table Conference. They have all along questioned us what we were doing in London. They believe that we had visited London, merely to enjoy the hospitality of your people. Though the Round Table Conference proceedings have been very dry as dust material, it had been a valuable contribution to the solution of the Indian problem.

"We pinned faith in the work of the Conference, because Lord Irwin whom you sent out to India as the best Viceroy had told us that whatever conclusions arrived at the Round Table Conference would be made basis of the proposals to be put before Parliament. We were further assured by your Prime Minister in whose word India believes because he comes from a Party which has the interest of the working class of t country at heart. He said at the conclusion of the First Round Table Conference "if these proposals which are emanated from the Round Table Conference are rejected by Parliament any Government which values self-respect shall regard it as a vote of no-confidence and take steps accordingly". Believing that our evolution lies in our own hand we went on making compromises with the only object of having peace in India once and for all time. However, all of a sudden your Parliament passed a resolution under which the Joint Select Committee has been working."

WHITE PAPER.

The White Paper, to use a lawyer's word, is reduced merely as an exhibit before the Joint Select Committee. Nothing in the White Paper is binding on this Committee. The White Paper transfers law and order in the provinces—I mean police and judiciary—in the hands of popular ministry. But what I am told in this committee, I am told that the Committee is not bound or committed to the White Paper.

We realise that British legitimate interests must be protected. We know that several crores sunk in India should be protected. We have agreed to it. We have also agreed not to jeopardise the safety and sanctity of the country by accepting a safeguard—a much misused word—that the army should for a period of time be in the hands of the Crown acting through the Governor-General. Another important compromise arrived at has been that all the interests on funds you have invested in India, all salaries, pensions shall not be touched. They shall come out of the Consolidated Fund as first charge without interference from the legislature. We have further agreed that the financial stability of the country should not be in any way jeopardised. That the Viceroy should have the power of arranging things so that he shall get the necessary money'

"NO TRUST ANYWHERE."

We also agreed that all foreign relations, namely, declaring war or peace—for a short period shall be in the hands of the Viceroy. That the Governor-General in certain contingency shall have special power of interference for the maintenance of peace and tranquility of the country. But now we find and we are told that no investor trusts India, that no soldier trusts India, that no civilian trusts India. This reminds me of a creditors' action in bankruptcy. Every one of them is coming forward to say "pay me my dividends". But they do not realise that the tragedy is India is not yet insolvent and can meet her commitments to the full.

LAW AND ORDER.

"Are we going to get the essential? Shall we have the power to manage our own affairs? These are the two questions that always confront me. I am told that law and order should not be transferred to the popular ministry because the ministry cannot be trusted to do the right thing. How on earth you seven thousand miles away from India shall control police than the men on the spot, who has his interest in the country, who lives in the country with his wife and family, passes my comprehension. How can your people, not knowing the languages, history, culture of the country manage affairs in India again passes my comprehension. All the same we have agreed to several safeguards. Mind you we have not agreed to these safeguards because we have fears in our mind. We have agreed them purely for your satisfaction. We are not anxious to cut the nose to spite the face. It is time now for you to say how long you propose to retain this artificial and unnatural power in your hands. Do you seriously want me to wait until every widow, every soldier and every investor is satisfied of his claim? And how long is the period during which you think that will all agree to believe that their interest are safe in our hands. For myself, I cannot translate this problem in terms of time."

NOT TO DROP OUT.

Answering questions, Mr. Jayakar declared that he had confidence in British ability but he had no confidence in the proposed method of governing India from several thousands miles. In reply to another question he pointed out that he was not inclined to drop out very lightheartedly in the work to which he had devoted himself for the last five years in spite of the fact that the present experiment in the form of the Joint Select Committee did not meet to his satisfaction. "When I offered my co-operation with the work of the Round Table Conference I counted the cost. I shall, therefore, persevere the task upto the last. When I am convinced otherwise, I shall go back to India and shall have nothing to do with the further stages of the Government proposals. But I think I should be the best judge for such a decision."

CLASSES AND MASSES

When asked if the White Paper guarantees any safety to the masses, Mr. Jayakar replied "I draw no distinction between classes and masses. As your classes are looking after the interests of your masses, same will be the case in India. In my opinion all autocracy thrives on ignorance"

In conclusion Mr. Jayakar asserted that the Viceroy as well as the Secretary of State for India were wrong in believing that the Indian National Congress has been crushed. "You can crush a particular form of manifestation of a movement but you cannot crush spirit. I should like you to ask the Viceroy whether he has been able to crush the growth of national feeling in the country."

HUNT FOR GANG LEADER IN SIND

(From Our Correspondent.)

KARACHI, July 17.

The Sind C. I. D., the Upper Sind Frontier District police and the the Political Officers of Baluchistan, are making herculean efforts to trace one Abdul Rehman, alleged to be a notorious leader of a dacoit gang concerned in a number of dacoities in British Territory on the border of Baluchistan and for whose arrest a member of warrants have been issued.

Five out of nine accused concerned in a recent armed dacoity in Karimbux village under the leadership of Abdul Rehman, have recently been arrested and one of them named Dilaso 'alias' Dilawar has made a confession before Khan Bahadur Sardar Chakarkhan, special first class magistrate of Jacobabad.

The Divisional Officer Quetta wires on the 20th inst.:—

Due to further spates, restriction in booking of all passengers and perishables for stations beyond Hindu Bagh towards Fort Sandeman has been extended upto 24th instant. 499 up and 500 down will continue to run between Khanai and Hindubagh as at present.

THANA'S LEADING LAWYER DEAD

Mr. M. J. D. Wadia, Senior Member Of Bar

(From A Correspondent.)

THANA, July 20.

The death took place here lately of Mr. Muncherji Jamshedji D. Wadia, a leading lawyer of Thana. He began his career in 1900 at Kalyan and thereafter at Thana from 1904 up till his death. Mr. Wadia was a senior member of the Bar and had earned the respect of the Bar and his clients by his wonderful industry and devotion to work. This was mainly responsible for his receiving many important cases from leading solicitors' firms of Bombay and elsewhere in the Presidency.

He was very simple and reserved in his habits, and extremely polite even during the Court proceedures with his opponents. He had thus endeared himself to the members of the Bar and the Bench by his genial nature. He acted as adviser to many trusts and Zamindars of Thana. He held the post of Superintendent of the Kurla (Khote) estate for the past 33 years, and himself was a trustee of the Parsee Anjuman of Thana and carried out his work with great care and zeal.

He was a direct descendent of the late Mr. Dadabhoy Pestonji Wadia, once a multi-millionaire of Bombay, and was the witness of their fading glory in his childhood, for by irony of fate the family passed through great distress and difficulty. Nevertheless he worked patiently and hard and brought his family on a better footing, contributing in a very large measure to the needs and wants of his earstwhile suffering relatives.

He was permanant resident of Thana but was brought down to Bombay a few days before his death, owing to a complicated melody which took him away at the age of 64.

His funeral ceremony took place at the Parsee Tower of Silence and was well attended, by his co-religionists and members of Thana and Bombay Bars and by members of other communities. The Thana Courts were closed as a mark of respect on the day of his death.

The diseased leaves behind him a widow, two sisters and relatives to mourn his death.

Naini Tal.—On the whole, the Act worked smoothly: no particular difficulty is reported to have been experienced by the Commissioners, says the report for 1932 on the working of the Workmen's Compensation Act (VIII of 1923) in U. P.—A. P.

How A Woman May Retain Her Youth

"The woman who wants to look young must taboo massage creams and liquid rouge. She will only harden the structure of her face and destroy the fine texture of the skin," said Mrs. Margaret Holmes Bates, the well-known author.

"Reputable physicians have declared that if she indulges in artificial methods she risks losing her health," she continued. A perfectly natural method of treating a bad complexion is by using ordinary mercolized wax, as this adds nothing to the complexion, but takes from it instead. This wax obtainable at any chemist's, flakes off the sallow or blotchy outer skin in fine particles gently, without harming the skin beneath, which gradually makes its appearance The brilliantly beautiful complexion thus obtained is a new one—quite different from a patched-up old complexion. This is one way to retain youthful looks.

PLAYERS BEAT GENTLEMEN

Win By Ten Wickets

LONDON, July 21.

A three-day match between Gentlemen and Players which commenced on Wednesday resulted to-day in a win for the Players by ten wickets.

SCORES

Players—309 and 12 for no loss.
Gentlemen—143 and 177.

DETAILS OF GAME.

Sunny weather prevailed when play was resumed to-day in match between Gentlemen and Players. Wicket was good.

Owen-Smith chased the ball sent down by Clark which went wide of off stump, and Hammond fielding in third slip brought off a beautiful catch, dismissing him for 37 (168/7/37). The outgoing batsman took nearly an hour and half to put together his 37, which included three fours. Oldfield and Smith now became associated, but before latter had commenced scoring. Clark again claimed his wicket (170/8/0). Oldfield, Clark's third victim, was well held by Hammond when he had put on 8. Farnes, the last batsmen out, was clean bowled by Nichols after he had scored only a brace of runs.

Wickets thus fell in quick succession, only 25 runs being added to the overnight's total, and the second innings terminated at 177, Marriott batting nil.

Requiring 12 runs for win, Players went in on their second venture, opening through Barnett and Verity, who contributed eleven, and one respectively, both remaining unbeaten at close.

There were two minor accidents during the innings. Jardine snicked one of Verity's deliveries and the ball struck Ames on the face but the wicket-keeper quickly recovered. Leyland after chasing hit from Jardine through a deep extra-cover, pulled up suddenly and then began to hop on one foot. After a few words with the Captain, Leyland retired, Brown, one of the ground staff, substituting.

The wicket under the influence of the sun is assisting the bowlers.

Hundred and sixty-six runs behind the Players' total, Gentlemen were forced to follow on and had made 152 for six at the close in their second innings.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE

SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1933

NOTHING DOING

The evidence given by Sir Samuel Hoare before the Joint Parliamentary Committee, his subsequent statements, and the explanation offered by some of the members should all clear the political air both in India and England. We fail to understand why Sir Samuel feels injured and offers explanation and counter-explanation to make his position clear. There has been no doubt in India as to the real implications of the White Paper or the intentions of the "National" Government. If some political flunkeys, invited to join the Joint Parliamentary Committee, tell the Secretary of State for India that he is the great liberator of India, he must realise that they are men of his own choosing and that they have not the slightest influence with the Indian intelligentsia or the masses.

ALL IN THE FUTURE.

There has been too much hair splitting in the Committee, as to the ultimate goal of India. That is a matter which neither the present Government in England nor India, nor even those consultees who are crowding the Committee, can settle for India. It is foolish to suppose for a moment that the Joint Parliamentary Committee can determine the goal of India, for the world is undergoing such changes and most stable administrations are overturned so suddenly, that it serves no useful purpose to make plans for the future.

The question is whether there is real Dominion Status in the White Paper, or even any "seeds" of it. Honest-minded people know that there are none, and if anybody says there are he is purposely deluding others. Sir Samuel Hoare admitted that, judged by the Statute of Westminster, the White Paper did not contain Dominion Status, and took shelter in the insanely admission that, owing to the different conditions in India they were trying "to give her an opportunity for wide development in future." There is nothing about the present in all this.

IRRELEVANT TALK.

There was some discussion about the real meaning of the pledges given by the British Government and by the Viceroy. We are not concerned with what Mr. Baldwin said or Lord Irwin promised or Sir M. Hailey explained away. What we are concerned with is the White Paper and the policy contained in it. Does it satisfy Indian aspirations, or will it further the cause of Indian freedom? To such a plain question the answer must be "No". All this flummery is beside the point. If Lord Irwin says that his promise contained nothing, or if Lord Salisbury believes that a condition was attached to it,—it is immaterial to the point at issue. As Gandhiji said the White Paper will never satisfy the Congress, and for the future peace of the country, the Congress has to be satisfied, whether the Secretary of State for India wants to do so or not. All other talk is idle and irrelevant to the issue.

PAINFUL SYCOPHANCY.

We are pained if not surprised at the anxiety of Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and his colleagues to give a certificate of good conduct to Sir Samuel Hoare, but they can rest assured that nobody in India is going to be fooled by them. Sir Samuel whined that, "I honestly believe that we are playing fair." We can only judge him by his deeds and not words. But even judged by his words, his attitude has been anything but honest and straightforward. Asked by Baron Somers, he replied that the whole basis of development was that he expected the Governors and the Governor-General progressively to intervene less and less and that in course of time their powers would "fall into disquietude."

Why should he assume all this, and why should he not expect the Governors to follow the letter and the spirit of the White Paper constitution? Does he want India to believe that the Governor-General would gradually give up his authority even in regard to the Army and Foreign Affairs! And yet here are the Princes telling Government every now and then that they would never never allow British Indians to meddle in their affairs. Surely even a politician is expected to show some sort of honesty to his opponents.

CREATING TROUBLE.

When he was cornered by Major Attlee and Sir Austen Chamberlain, Sir Samuel had to take refuge in saying that he could not answer immediately, or that there was an anomaly. It is necessary to expose the insincerity and even futility underlying the whole evidence of the Secretary of State. But when the whole White Paper appears to be designed to delude Indians, it is no use pointing out the inconsistencies of Sir Samuel Hoare. Indians, however, have not misunderstood either the White Paper or Sir Samuel, or the policy which he wants to force on India. Whatever it is, instead of pacifying India, it will create more trouble in the future.

Empire Co-operation

All does not seem to be well with British Trade despite the Ottawa and other pacts. Britain is complaining that her markets are being glutted with Dominion agricultural produce as a result of the Ottawa Agreements. Lord De La Warr, Parliamentary Secretary for Agriculture, has made an important statement on the subject in Parliament and its tone suggests some interesting developments in the near future. The Dominions will naturally reply that they are absolutely within the terms of the Agreements and that those terms were never meant—by them—to be only paper. But, says the Secretary, the Dominions ought to "relax the letter of the Agreements in order to carry out the spirit" He evidently interprets both the letter and the spirit in terms of benefit to British trade, which it suits Britain to talk of as Empire trade, but he forgets that the Dominions, too, are entitled to interpret the Agreements from their own points of view.

Lord De La Warr is aware that logic is not on his side and mildly suggests a threat in his statement. If the Dominions, he says, ignore the "spirit" of the Agreements—of course in the British sense—"it would inevitably mean that British markets, which were so important to the Dominions, would continue to deteriorate"; for Government were determined to make every effort to secure Empire co-operation'

The context leaves no doubt as to what is precisely meant by "Empire co-operation." At any rate an Indian can readily understand it, he is so accustomed to the Imperial cant and to British threats. As the Dominions are not likely to be much impressed by the threat of the deterioration of the British market, a series of meetings between the British and the Dominion delegations to the Economic Conference have been arranged. Unlike India, the Dominions may be trusted to insist upon good consideration for every concession to Britain.

Meanwhile it is particularly interesting to note that the Irish propaganda against Britain at the Economic Conference has not gone in vain. For it is reported that the British Government will be urged next week in the Commons to end the tariff war with the Free State. The war has evidently hit Britain as well as Ireland The only country in the Empire that is most obliging to Britain is India. That is Empire Co-operation.

Down With Communalism

The dominant note in all the speeches at the public meeting held in Bombay on Thursday under the presidency of Mr. B. G. Horniman was that Swaraj is impossible without national unity and the latter is impossible without communal unity. That was the point repeatedly stressed by the President and Dr. Alam, the main speaker, and that was also the sentiment that was most appreciated by an audience that had duly tasted the bitter fruits of communal strife. Its truth has been brought home to all observant people.

The people of Bombay in particular have suffered grievously by the recent communal strife and now they are determined, with Dr. Alam, to fight communalism in all shapes and forms. They have already started a branch of the Anti-Communal League founded by Dr. Alam at Lahore. The Bombay League should, by ceaseless and active work, attempt to be an example to the whole Presidency.

As explained by Dr. Alam, the main object of his League is to bind together the different religious communities of India with the bonds of non-religious common interests, economic, civic and political. This would mean, negatively, that in every non-religious association the very thought of communal differences is to be tabooed; and, positively, every efforts is to be made to promote unions and guilds bound together by common economic and other non-religious nterests.

It should be obvious that organising a number of trade unions and peasants' associations without giving any quarter to communalism, will be a great achievement from the economic as well as the communal point of view. And he is an ignoramus who does not know the political value of such organisations.

Press Views

Quite Like Them

No one will deny that Mahatma Gandhi was impelled by a noble purpose in doing what a smaller man would have regarded as self-abasement, or that the Viceroy, by refusing to meet Mahatmaji, has not served the interests of peace which he professes so earnestly to desire. But we have watched the present temper, not only of the Government of India but also of the British Cabinet; and we have had no reason to expect from them either courage or statesmanship.—"Liberty."

A Great Blunder

Can it safely ignore their experience whether as guide or as precedent? Had the Indian passive resisters in South Africa, whom a predecessor of Lord Willingdon blessed, abandoned the passive resistance movement when the Government of South Africa entered into negotiations with them? Had the Irish "rebels," who had gone far beyond the limits of passive resistance, and actually established a republican form of government, laid down their arms, either literally or metaphorically, when His Majesty's Government, of which the virtual head of the present British Government was himself a member, initiated conversations with them and made a treaty with them? In our own country and only three years ago had the Congress abandoned the civil disobedience movement, when Lord Irwin entered upon the historic conversations with the Mahatma of which the Gandhi-Irwin Pact was the outcome? In the present case Lord Willingdon had the supreme advantage of having to deal with a movement, the leader of which himself ardently desired peace and had just made pacific overtures. The rejection of those overtures by His Excellency will, we are firmly convinced, go down to posterity as one of the greatest blunders in the history of England's relations with India, perhaps in all history.—"Tribune."

Youth Will Remember

Simla and Whitehall have spurned the idea of any negotiation for peace with the Congress. The very thought has appeared to them reprehensible. The impassioned appeal of Mr. Lansbury in the House of Commons to treat Mahatma Gandhi "as we had earlier treated Generals Botha and Smuts" has been treated by the British Government with silent contempt. Do the authorities seriously think that the cause of this differentiating treatment meted out by them to Bothas, Smuts and De Valeras on the one hand and men like Mahatma Gandhi on the other will not be grasped and deeply pondered over by nationalist India? Do they consider the younger generation of Indians so very ignorant of the history of Great Britain that they would fail to properly estimate this constant reiteration on the part of the Government of their determination not to truck with the authors of the present Congress movement?.—"A. B. Patrika."

JUSTICE AND CITIZENSHIP

Rights Of States Subjects Must Be Respected & Justice Give Them

By Prof. G. R. ABHYANKER.

Now that the States are to be included in the ambit of the Federation the question of Federal Citizenship becomes of paramount importance. Under the existing law, the Indian State subjects are treated as foreigners under Act 3 of 1864, as amended by Act 3 of 1915; and the Indian State subjects when residing or happening to be in British India are summarily ejected from British territory, and in some cases arrested and handed over to the custody of the Police of the States to which such state subject may belong. It is not even necessary to prove that such a State subject is an undesirable person or a suspicious character. The recent case of Emperor Vs. Jagardev Ramsumer Tewari makes this position abundantly clear.

UNJUST ENACTMENT.

Taking advantage of this antiquated weapon in the armoury of the Indian States the British Indian Government has been externing and interning many innocent subjects of the Indian States under the Ordinance Raj. In some cases even worse treatment is meted out to them and they are treated as though they were guilty of an offence under the Indian Penal Code.

The original Statute against foreigners was passed about the year 1858 to guard against the influx of foreign adventurers into the country and disturb the peace. It was never meant for the subjects of the Indian Princes, who were in alliance with the Government. The Indian States people therefore demand that before Federation becomes an accomplished fact this unjust enactment should be obliterated from the Statute books.

SUPREME COURT.

Another most crying and imperative need of the hour, so far as the States' people are concerned, is the creation of a supreme court even for non-Federal matters so far as the Indian States are concerned. The question of a Supreme Court was thoroughly discussed at the Second R. T. Conference and there was a complete unanimity on this question including Hindus and Moslems.

The right of petition to His Majesty was in no way challenged and was to remain intact. But subject to this reservation the Indian Delegates strongly insisted that there should be a Supreme Court as the final Court of Appeal in Civil and even in Criminal matters as the essential insignia of a self-governing member of the British Commonwealth of Nations. The White Paper has turned down this maximum agreement reached on this subject and has shelved this question of Supreme Court for the present.

PROFITS OF JUSTICE.

The only reason why the Princes are stubbornly opposed to this ideal of Supreme Court is that the Powers of the autocratic princes vexatiously to interfere with the course of justice would cease. From a financial point of

Frankly Speaking

TURNED DOWN—NATURALLY!

The League of Nations has collected the opinions of different countries as to the advisability of unifying criminal laws in operation all over the world.

We are not surprised that most of the countries protest against this laudable object. The British Government thought it was "misconceived and impracticable." The Government of India were greatly satisfied with themselves and thought there was no occasion to seek the assistance of the League in the making these laws.

The German government also was of the same opinion. We can quite appreciate the difficulty.

For instance there are no Ordinance laws in Great Britain and the carrying of the Union Jack in procession may not be held seditious.

There are many other things which are held to be no crime in self-governing countries, but are considered to be heinous crimes in India or in Nazified Germany, and it is only natural that the Government of India told the League of Nations that their criminal laws are good enough for Indians!

DEPLORABLE SET-BACK.

Figures of imports of foreign piecegoods show that the Swadeshi movement has recently suffered a most regrettable setback.

The report on the sea-borne trade of the Madras Presidency for the year 1932-'33 states that during the year there was an increase of over 39 per cent in the import of cotton manufactures. Similar figures can be quoted for several other provinces.

The report attributes the increase chiefly to "the suppression of the non-co-operation and civil disobedience movements."

The explanation is only half-true. It would be more true to say that the distractions of the civil disobedience movement prevented adequate attention being given to Swadeshi organisation.

But now that the mass movement has been called off, it behoves Congressmen and all other Nationalists to concentrate their attention on a vigorous country-wide Swadeshi propaganda.

A STRANGE JUDGMENT.

In spite of the Calcutta High Court judgment we refuse to believe that there is any moral turpitude involved in a conviction under the Ordinance Acts.

A great many cases under the Legal Practitioners' Act were brought against advocates all over India, but we do not remember to have read anywhere that they were suspended because the judges believed them guilty of moral turpitude.

In a Lahore case the High Court, while acquitting, held that it was not enough for an advocate to take part in the Civil Disobedience movement to condemn him as being guilty of moral turpitude, but there must be something more.

Lords Birkenhead and Carson were guilty of leading a revolt, collecting arms and threatening armed resistance—and yet one became Lord Chancellor of England and Secretary of State for India and the other a Lord of Appeal. They were members of the Cabinet and respected members of Government. Is it necessary to say more?

PUBLIC WELLS FOR ALL.

Whatever may be the legal difficulties in the way of temple entry legislation, there should be none in enacting laws securing to the Depressed Classes free access to all public wells and tanks.

A Bill is to be introduced in the ensuing session of the Madras Legislative Council providing that all tanks and wells maintained by a Panchayat shall be open to all persons irrespective of caste or creed.

The Bill only extends to Local Boards a law that already applies to the Municipalities in the province. But the ultra-orthodox are likely to oppose the barest justice to the Harijans.

Reformers should, therefore, see to it that the Bill becomes law despite any orthodox opposition.

Similar laws should be enacted in all those provinces where there are still any difficulties in the Harijans' free access to public wells and tanks.

INEXPLICABLE.

We are surprised at the sudden "volte face" of the Municipal Corporation in asking the Collector of Bombay to allow them to send their representative to the Excise Advisory Committee again.

As its name implies it is purely an advisory committee and most of the time the advice of the members is thrown into the waste paper basket. It was the repeated humiliations inflicted on the Corporation, which at last forced them to non-co-operate with the Collector of Bombay.

We do not know what has happened in the meanwhile behind the purdah. But the Corporation have now decided once again to offer their advice to the Collector so that he may again reject it!

Most of the arguments trotted out in favour of the motion were idiotic, and no self-respecting body ought to have listened to them. But there is a frenzy of co-operation apparently in the Corporation and we now await the results of this unwanted co-operation.

WHITHER, OH INDIAN PRINCES?

From B. F. Bharucha.

Raja Sahebs,

Will you just reflect, where you stand to-day? Time was

(1) When the Government belauded you, and every time befriended you!

(2) When your own subjects loved and respected you.

(3) And the people in British India had great regards for you.

BUT TO-DAY? YOU ARE AT A DISCOUNT!

(1) The Government pats you, or pulls you up, as it suits them!

(2) Your subjects, though in dread of your displeasure, have, barring exceptions, little genuine regard for you!

(3) And regarding the people of British India, whilst some dance attendance on you, others don't take much notice of you, and a few wish to do away with your autocratic rule!

AND WHY? BECAUSE OF BANKRUPTCY AND AUTOCRACY!

(1) The Government have little use for most of you! For, by feasting and feting and travelling, you have emptied your Treasuries! And, you can't subscribe to their Loans, as before!

(2) Your subjects are worried and weary; for whilst you have been promising them franchise, reforms and councils, you are still persisting in your arbitrary government!

(3) And the people of British India are getting sick of you, on account of your pendulum policy in regard to Federation!

IF YOU ARE TRULY LOYAL, FOLLOW KING GEORGE!

In season and out of season, you talk of your loyalty to the throne and person of King George! If that is true attachment and devotion, then follow the example of King George:—

(1) Do not treat your State Treasury as your Privy Purse.

(2) Do not stifle free speech and action.

(3) Do not have forced labour.

(4) Do not give monopolies to favourites.

(5) Do not engage in personal business.

(6) Do not deny to your subjects an effective voice in your administration.

(7) Do not be overhospitable; and do not run into debts.

(8) Treat your subjects, as your own children. If you still persist in your luxurious or autocratic policy, believe me, your days are numbered.

Avert the crisis, serve your people—that is real Kingship.

PARSI MEETING

From D. D. Khambatta.

I have read in your valued columns letters from Homai H. Chichgar and Co., and Mr. Bharucha regarding the last Parsi meeting at C.J. Hall.

Mr. Bharucha has raised five questions and at the same time he has given their answers also.

I would advise Mr. Bharucha to inquire into a matter first and then rush into the Press. Firstly he had said something about the President, then he speaks in favour of Mr. Hirjibehdin on the strength of "Samachar" reports and finally he advocates "Solid constructive social and educational work for the community".

As regards his comments for the President, Mr. Bharucha must know that in such meetings it is customary not to allow any amendments. The meeting has power either to accept the resolution or to reject it wholly. I think the Secretary of the Panchayat will throw more light on this subject if Mr. Bharucha so desires.

As regards Mr. Hirjibehdin I must tell you at once that your report of the whole proceedings was absolutely correct and to the point. Your reporter understands fully well the difference between "cheers" and "jeers" and if the Parsi Reformists wish to take "jeers" as "cheers", well we should not disturb them in their sweet reverie. I suppose Homai H. Chichgar and Co., have not forgotten the rubbish that was thrown at the speaker. Why do not these swelled heads keep their mouths shut? What earthly good are they doing to the community by washing and letting others wash, dirty linen in public?

OTHER NUISANCES

From "Peaceful Resident."

The public of Bombay will gratefully thank the Commissioner of Police for prohibiting display of advertisements by music etc., on the streets of Bombay. This was one of the many nuisances of Bombay which the public were patiently bearing for a long time, and still there exist many such nuisances, the chief among them are those of the beggars and hawkers that require to be handled as urgently as possible.

The present order of the police has been issued with a view to end the obstruction to traffic, but in my opinion, the obstruction will still remain so long as display motorcars are allowed to run helter skelter on the roads of our city, with huge posters fixed on both sides of cars. Will the police show enough courage and take steps under Section 22 against beggars and fakirs who roam about the streets and disturb public peace with their music?

Another nuisance from which the public suffers is that of the advertisement handbills. The boys who distribute these leaflets, carelessly throw them on the body of persons seated in tramcars and even in motorcars. Many times thick cards on which advertisements are printed, actually hit on the faces of women and children seated in public cars. Cannot some legal steps be taken against the advertisers for their carelessness? Will somebody move in the matter?

VACANCIES IN WILSON COLLEGE

From "T. F."

The unfortunate death of Fr. Sacasa and the sudden departure of Dr. Normand of Wilson College for Europe have created two vacancies on the University Board of studies (Science).

The Gujerat College at Ahmedabad and the Baroda College are represented on the Board by their respective Professors of Chemistry. The R. I. of Science is represented by one of its Professors who may be said to represent also the remaining Government Colleges while a Professor of the Fergusson College represents it and the other Institutions of the Deccan Education Society.

The two Colleges that are now left unrepresented on the Board are St. Zavier's and Wilson's. St. Zavier's is the largest and most important College of Bombay and it is but fair that one of the vacancies should be filled up by a science professor of the College, either by one of the Fathers or by Mr. Bhagvat. Professor of Chemistry, with his long experience in education. The other vacancy as a matter of justice ought to go to Wilson's a Missionary Institution commanding great respect in the Presidency.

K. E. M. HOSPITAL

From "One Interested."

I have closely followed the sensational "K. E. M. Mystery" and am very much surprised to see the latest developments. A student is violently assaulted and the offender, also a fellow student is apparently let off.

Well, when the student assaulted could be pursuaded to sign a statement that there was nothing serious in his being assaulted by a fellow student, I do not think, either the public or the press should interest themselves more in the matter. But what we, particularly those who are interested in the Hospital, are much concerned with is the way the authorities sometimes seem to hush up matters.

I suppose, I am not wrong in stating that there are a good number of Indian nurses in the hospital coming from respectable families, whose relatives are certainly interested in matters like these. To-day, a student, supposed to be educated, assaults another student, To-morrow, a nurse might be insulted. Are we to conclude that the matter would be hushed up? I am sure, the nurse might be induced to sign a statement that there is nothing serious in the matter.

I know for a fact that there are a few married ladies in the hospital whose husbands are certainly anxious to see that such "mysteries" as the one that lately happened, do not occur in a hospital, supposed to be under excellent management. It is high time for the Dean to take the public in his confidence and inform them of the facts about the "Mystery."

Monsoon Plays Havoc In Karachi City

Roads Flooded, Houses Collapse, Three Lose Their Lives And Several Injured

KARACHI, July 21.

Karachi awoke this morning to find public roads flooded with more than knee-deep water as a result of heavy downpour all through the night. The total amount of rain so far has been six inches.

Reports have already been received of house collapses in low-lying areas in which three lives were lost and a number of persons injured. All injured persons have been sent to hospital.

Municipal authorities are visiting the flooded areas and are rendering help to sufferers. Telephones are also out of order. Merchants who had been making brisk business in wheat, are faced with heavy losses as a result of wheat bags being considerably damaged as they were lying in open yards of the port area. All educational institutions are closed and Drigh Road Aerodrome has been for the present rendered unserviceable.

The sky is still overcast with clouds and more rain is likely.—A. P.

AERODROME WATER-LOGGED

LATER.

As a result of torrential rain for the past 20 hours, Drigh Road Aerodrome is water-logged and has been rendered unserviceable.

The arrival of the inward airmail has consequently been delayed.—A. P.

view such a Court would be most profitable to the Indian rulers.

The Creation of such a Court would remove the cause of discontent among the subjects and would ensure good government in the States, and would foster the growth of rule of law which is indispensable for Parliamentary Government. The Princes besides are anxious for a judicial tribunal to settle disputes of succession and heirship, for the interpretation of their treaties for respecting usage and custom and for cases of conflict between States and British India. Instead of the Governor-General or the Viceroy, or the Secretary of State deciding these matters in an executive capacity the Princes would be immensely gratified if justifiable cases were decided by an impartial tribunal like that of a Supreme Court.

Below is given a free translation of the Nizam's recent Urdu "Gazal", which has appeared in the "Rahber-e-Deccan" of 12th July and a photograph whereof is reproduced above to enable the Urdu-knowing readers of the "Chronicle" to appreciate the poem in the original.

Says His Exalted Highness:—

(1) "Any moment you can reduce me to dust, but you cannot prevent my dust from rising.

(2) "They might intern me or put me in prison, but never can they prove that I have ever been guilty.

(3) "Flirt they might a thousand times with my antagonists, but they dare not see eye to eye with me.

(4) "I would rather die than cease loving, death or imprisonment has lost its terror for me.

(5) "They are hiding their faces very gracefully, as they cannot bear that I should look at them, straight in their faces.

(6) "If such are the shafts that those eyes send forth, then there is no hope left for my heart.

(7) "They who are habituated to drinking, oh Osman!, cannot enjoy it fully except in the spring season."

The translation, I hasten to confess, leaves much to be desired. I may have missed a point here and over-emphasised another point there, but nevertheless I claim to have caught the spirit of the original, which has been immensely and widely appreciated by thousand upon thousands of the Nizam's loving subjects. I have seen several people sobbing, when this "Gazal" was sung by a college student before a mixed assembly of Hindus and Muslims, the other day.

The word "love" in the fourth line is generally interpreted as meaning love for his subjects.

The "Gazal", which in point of diction and fluency can rank amongst the masterpieces of Urdu literature, has created a sensation in Hyderabad. Maidens with pretty faces and young college boys with melodious voices are competing with one another in rendering the "Gazal" in the best of terms.

Various interpretations are put on this poem, but it is difficult to shape with any definiteness what exactly was in the author's mind when he composed it.

The Offices and Press of "The Bombay Chronicle" and "Bombay Samachar" are being transferred from Hari Building, Old Customs House Road, to new premises known as "Red Building," Parsi Bazaar Street, Fort. This, naturally, involves considerable inconvenience and difficulty in the production of the paper for a few days.

We are, therefore, obliged to ask for the indulgence of our readers until the process of complete removal is achieved.

COMMONS ADOPT BRITISH TREASURY SCHEME.

LONDON, July 21.

The British Treasury scheme, published on 19/7, for optional conversion of 136 million dollars War-time bonds, issued in the United States, bearing five and a half per cent. and payable in 1937 into sterling bonds at two and a half per cent., repayable in 1937 at the rate of £260 per thousand dollar bond has been adopted by 131 to 22 votes in the Commons.

The Chancellor of Exchequer said that Government had reason to believe a considerable number Treasury Bonds were held outside the United States.

Although it had no legal liability towards bondholders due to the United States going off gold, and abrogating the gold clause attached to bonds, it decided to assume its moral obligation in view of the fact that bondholders lent money to Britain, and had lost some their rights. He hoped the bondholders consider the British Government has given them a square deal. Opposition objected to the acceptance of obligation of this case.—Reuter's Special.

MR. MODY'S ADVICE TO LANCASHIRE

LONDON, July 21.

It was very difficult to work for co-operation between Lancashire and the Indian cotton industries responsible if the Lancashire people were to maintain a hostile attitude towards the legitimate demands of politically minded India, declared Mr. H P Mody, Chairman of the Bombay Millowners' Association, in a statement at Manchester. But if it could be felt that Lancashire interests could be relied upon to support the solution of Indian political problems in harmony with the views held by every responsible Indian quarter, and if Lancashire freely acknowledged India's right to frame her own tariff or other domestic policies, situation would be created enabling both the countries to co-operate and formulate a fair and satisfactory basis of future relations.

Lord Derby who lunched with Mr. Mody and others made a statement that he believed that arrangement mutually satisfactory to India and Britain could be arrived at.—Reuter.

Ex-Home Member Opposes Proposal At Public Meeting

BUT RESOLUTION CARRIED

Mr. Tambe's Attitude Causes Flutter In Political Circles

(From Our Correspondent.)

NAGPUR, July 20.

An interestng incident took place here yesterday when at the informal meeting of several prominent citizens of Nagpur held to consider the proposal for a memorial to H. E. Sir Montagu Butler, the retiring Governor of C.P., Mr. S. B. Tambe who held Office as Home Member during Sir Montagu's regime opposed the same tooth and nail.

A Rao Bahadur is stated to have put forth the proposal that in as much as the Malguzars of the province were bankrupt and unable to contribute in view of the existing low prices and depression, all Government servants should be forced to pay one month's salary as their contribution towards the Memorial Fund.

PROPOSAL CARRIED.

The proposals for erecting a suitable memorial to Sir Montagu was ultimately carried and a Committee consisting of several knights, Rao Bahadurs, Honorary Magistrate and others appointe for preparing the scheme.

Mr. Tambe's opposition caused a great flutter in political circles and his opponents (who are now in office) are accusing him of ingratitude.

BOMBAY LAND-OWNERS' EVIDENCE

Statutory Protection Of Inalienable Rights Urged

LONDON, July 21.

The sub-committee "A" heard, on 19th July, Messrs. Kube, and Deshpande on behalf of Bombay landowners, who claimed generally statutory protection of their inalienable rights, also Khan Bahadur Khuro, who submitted a memorandum, strongly supporting the separation of Sind.

Messrs. Shivarao, Aftab Ali, Roy Chowdhury, and N M Joshi appeared before the Sub-Committee "B" on behalf of Labour, and presented a memorandum of the National Trades Union Federation, which claimed, 'inter alia,' declaration of fundamental rights, and increased representation of Labour.

DISAGREEMENT.

Some disagreement emerged with regard to Roy Choudhury's memorandum on behalf of the Bengal Trades Union Federation, which claimed temporary safeguadds to protect the economic interests of workers.

Mr. Aftab Ali objected to it, and declared that the Bengal Federation never wanted these powers, which Mr. Joshi said were not approved by the National Federation.—Reuter.

LATE LORD BURNHAM.

Select Committee Adjourns In Memory Of Dead Peer

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, July 21.

Deep sorrow felt by the Select Committee at the sudden death of Lord Burnham was feelingly expressed at yesterday's meeting.

Lord Linlithgow, announcing the sad news said:

"This is not the moment to recall his distinguished career or refer to his great services in many fields, both to Britain and the Empire; but I may be allowed to express the profound sense of loss, which both members and delegates feel at Lord Burnham's death, which deprives us of a valued colleague, and so many of us of a true and trusted friend.

I think the Committee would desire to adjourn as a mark of respect to his memory."

Sir T. B. Sapru, Chowdhry Zafrulla, Begum Shahnawaz and Sir Akbar Hydari on behalf of States, and Col. Gidney on behalf of the Anglo-Indians, associated themselves with the chairman's words, also Sir H. Gour as one who had worked with the Lord Burnham on the Simon Commission and knew his work value.

The Select Committee then adjourned.

WHITE PAPER FRANCHISE PROPOSALS

British Members Of "Joint" Question Sir S. Hoare And Stress Impossibility Of Getting Into Contact With Large Proportion Of Electorates

LONDON, July 21.

The practicability of the White Paper franchise proposals, and particularly of direct election to the Federal Assembly was questioned by a number of British Members at the Select Committees at yesterday's hearing, when in addition to Sir M. Hailey and Sir F. Stewart, Sir John Kerr also accompanied Sir S. Hoare as witness in answering questions, particularly from the administrative view point on the White Paper franchise scheme.

DIRECT ELECTION.

The questioners stressed the huge extent of constituencies and the practical impossibility of getting into contact with a large proportion of electorate.

Lord Salisbury questioned the advisability of starting with a system which, with the expansion of franchise, would eventually result in one-fifth of the population of the world participating in direct election for the Federal Assembly.

Sir A. Chamberlain remarked that it was impossible to describe such a system as in any way representative, while Major Attlee commented on the "extreme difficulty" of direct election for the Centre.

FORMIDABLE OBSTACLES

Sir S. Hoare, in reply, stressed the impossibility of discovering a practical alternative, and said: "After long discussion we have come to the view that there is no practical way of surmounting the formidable obstacles to indirect election". He pointed out that the difference proposed by the White Paper was a difference of degree, for a system of representative government had been in existence in India for many years.

Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar pointed out that he had successfully canvassed an area of 10,000 sqcare miles.

Sir A. Chamberlain inquired what prevented adoption of indirect election by provincial legislatures.

Sir S. Hoare pointed out that in that event provincial legislatures would elect for both the Federal Houses. Moreover Indian public opinion strongly favoured direct election, and of the alternatives examined none was found practicable.

"ATTRACTIVE SUGGESTION."

Sir A. Chamberlain suggested that the Upper House might be composed of representatives of Governments and not of the legislatures.

Sir S. Hoare agreed that he had been strongly attracted by the suggestion, but found little support.

Sir J. Kerr opined that there would be no greater difficulty in India than in England in handling enlarged electorates from time to time. Sir H. Cocke proposed provision requiring periodical revision of the electorate.

Sir S. Hoare contemplated that after a stated period both the Centre and the Provinces should be free to amend franchise.

Lord Salisbury remarked that that meant that the important basis of constitution was alterable without consent of Parliament.

Sir S. Hoare suggested that some latitude should eventually be left to the Federal Legislature.

RECONCILING TWO VIEWS.

Major Attlee pointed out that Sir S. Hoare's proposals did not accord with the Simon Commission's.

Sir S. Hoare thought it possible to reconcile the two viewpoints by giving lattitude to the Central and Provincial Legislatures while retaining Parliament's power to legislate, if the legislatures did not carry out their duties fairly.

Lord Salisbury, mentioning particularly Bengal under the Poona Pact, inquired if Sir S. Hoare desired to make a statement on the Communal Award.

GOVT. DECISION FINAL.

Sir S. Hoare, who had submitted a memorandum explaining the history and scope of the Award, replied in the negative. He said that Government had made it clear that their decision was final. They were only prepared to accept variation if agreed to by accredited leaders.

Sir S. Hoare mentioning the allocation of Princes' seats said: "We are now negotiating with the Princes on the basis that all will adhere to Federation, and all Princes, great and small, are interested in the matter. He added that he hoped that the Princes' representatives would sit for the lifetime of the Legislature, but he felt that it was impossible to legislate to that effect.

SWORD, NOT A "KIRPAN"

Cawnpore Magistrate Holds It Illegal For Sikh To Carry Weapons Except One "Kirpan"

The following is the text of the judgment delivered by the District Magistrate of Cawnpore in what is known as the "kirpan" case:

"Kartar Singh has been prosecuted for possessing an unlicensed sword under the Arms Act. It is admitted that on May 31 last at about 2-30 a.m. he was found carrying the two weapons. (Exhibits 1 and 2). Exhibit 1 is a sword about 33 inches long and Exhibit 2 may be called a "kirpan" or a "garauli" and is about 9 inches long. The only witness ekamined for the prosecution is Police Constable Ram Adhar Singh, who arrested the accused.

"Durga Dass Sondhi has deposed that while he was away in the Punjab the accused, who had been in his seryice as cook, was dismissed by his other servants. On his return to Cawnpore, the accused saw the witness at 10 or 11 p.m and the latter immediately ordered the accused to remove all his belongings without a minute's delay. This is the explanation put forward why the accused was carrying two weapons at a time at that late hour of the night.

"NOT TRUE"

"The evidence of Durga Das Sondhi has not impressed me as true. The witness has admitted that he has known the accused since his childhood and that there are dealings between the father of the witness and the accused's father, and yet I am asked to believe that the accused was dismissed for no other fault than laziness and that the witness refused to let his belongings remain in the shop for even one night with the result that the accused had to carry his bedding and trunk and everything. No question was put to the constable about any bedding or trunk. I am not prepared to believe this evidence.

"The case, however, has been contested mainly on legal grounds. Evidence has been led to prove that the accused is a Sikh and I see no reason to disbelieve this evdence. The proposition put forward by the defence counsel is that a Sikh can keep any number of swords or 'kirpans.'

"The position as I understand it is as follows: Under Section 19 (F) of the Indian Arms Act the possession of any arms in contravention of the provisions of Sections 14 and 15 (that is, without a licence) is an offence.

"Under Entry No. 1 schedule 11 to the Indian Arms Act swords and 'kirpans' have been excluded from the operation of all prohibitions and directions contained in the Indian Arms Act in the whole of the United Provinces, but the Local Government has been given the power 'to retain all or any of the prohibitions and directions contained in the Act in respect of any arms in the case of any class of persons or of any specified area.'

"This power has been exercised by the Local Government in the case of Cawnpore and the relevant notification is No. 309/VIII-3, dated January 16, 1931. Under this notification the exclusion from the operation of all prohibitions and directions as contained in entry No. 1 referred to above has been cancelled in respect of swords, spears, etc. This means that the possession of a sword without a licence in Cawnpore is illegal.

"Under paragraph 3 of the Exemptions set forth in the U. P. Arms Rules and orders, 'kirpans' carried by or in possession of Sikhs have been excluded from the operation of all prohibitions and the directions contained in the Arms Act throughout the United Provinces. The result is that while a Sikh is allowed to carry or possess a 'kirpan' he is not allowed to carry or possess a sword without a licence.

"The defence rely upon a ruling of the High Court of Lahore, published in page 600 of the All-India Reporter, 1924, which lays down that a Sikh may wear either a sword or a 'kirpan' so long as he wears only one weapon.

"In the first place, this ruling has been given with reference to Entry No. 3 of Schedule 11 to the Indian Arms Act which, as shown in the first column thereof, applies only to the Punjab, Burma and the Delhi province; and the local rules are also different. Secondly, if the ruling is to be followed it must be followed. I think, in its entirety and it is quite clear from it that it contemplates the possession of one weapon only.

A SWORD.

"The defence have not cited any authority in support of the proposition that a Sikh may keep any number of swords or 'kirpans.' It is true that the turf 'kirpan' has not been defined anywehre, but in the same way 'garauli,' sword and spear have also not been defined. Still one can tell which is which and in my opinion Exhibit 1 is certainly a sword and is covered by the notification of the Local Government already referred to.

"I hold that while the accused committed no offence in carrying the weapon, Exhibit 2, he was guilty under Section 19 (F) of the Arms Act in having the sword, Exhibit 1, without a licence. There might have been something to be said for the accused if he only had one weapon, even longer than usual, but I am unable to continue the exemption in favour of Sikhs as enabling them to keep any number of weapons they like.

"I convict Kartar Singh of an offence under Section 19 (F) of the Arms Act in respect of the sword, Exhibit 1, and sentence him to pay a fine of Rs. 40 only and in default of payment of the fine he shall suffer rigorous imprisonment for one month."—A. P.

ENORMOUS LIQUIDATION IN N. Y. MARKET

Washington Administration To Proceed With Inflation To Arrest Decline

OPERATORS NERVOUS ON UNFAVOURABLE PROGRESS OF RECOVERY PLAN

Cotton Market Highly Speculative

The New York Cotton Exchange displayed considerable nervousness on Thursday influenced by the sudden appreciation of dollar, favourable weather for the growing cotton crop. All markets were over bought, resultingin a weak technical situation.

Enormous quantities of long cotton were pressed for sale on an unwilling market which resulted in a phenomenal fall of 106 points in cotton prices.

For the moment confidence is undermined and it is generally expected that the Washington administartion will come out with a further inflationary programme to arrest the present decline.

The market is highly speculative and prices are expected to register wide fluctuations. The fact remains that the heavy liquidation has improved the technical situation. Rumours of serious illness of President Roosevelt and scepticism regarding the ability of consumers to pay higher prices should not be relied.

BOMBAY, July 21.

The New York cotton futures market was very weak on general liquidation, influenced by weakness of Wall Street and stop loss selling. The market opened at a decline of 7 to 10 points and ruled very steady during the first hour on scattered buying which wiped off the opening decline and a rise of 7 points was registered. This was the highest level as later on there was extensive long liquidation which ultimately caught stoploss orders and prices recorded a drastic decline of 113 points from the opening level. The market showed considerable nervousness but short covering during the last hour resulted in a sharp rally and the market closed at a net decline of 72 to 79 points. Spot cotton prices declined 80 points at 11.55c.

The New Orleans cotton futures market was weak and closed at a decline of 72 points. Spot cotton prices declined 70 points at 11.54c.

The Liverpool cotton futures market opened quiet but steady at a decline of 10 points on parity with overnight decline in New York. Weakness in sterling attracted new buying, meeting limited offerings. In the afternoon there was straddle buying and the market closed unchanged to a rise of one point. Middling American spot cotton prices declined 8 points at 6-35d per lb.

East Indian Cotton futures ruled steady and closed unchanged with January 5.55. Egyptian cotton futures market was quiet but steady and closed unchanged to a decline of 3 points.

The Alexandria cotton futures market was easy and closed at a decline of 12 to 15 points.

ADVISE PURCHASES.

Messrs. Thos. Smith & Co. State:—

Heavy realising and stoploss selling on various rumours such as the serious illness of President Roosevelt, and scepticism as to ability of consumers to pay higher prices caused a sharp break.

The last 2 days decline of over one cent has technically improved the position It appears apart from the appreciation of the dollar, which is mainly due to British financial transactions and subsequent Continental speculation one of the main reasons for the decline is the growing scepticism as to the ability to stimulate purchasing power and sustain prices but it seems likely that the administration will, if necessary, use inflationary measures to prevent any further decline.

In view of the success of the Govt. ccreage reduction campaign, deterioration by recent drought in the West and with the critical months of August and September ahead we see no cause for nervousness and advise purchases.

PRIVATE CABLES

N. Y. October Highest 11.52 plus 04 lowest 10.42—1.06

N. Y. December Highest 11.72 (10.55 a m.); Lowest 1060 (1-31 p. m.)

Messrs. Thos. Smith & Co. have received the following cable from Liverpool:—

"Stopless orders uncovered in all commodities. Naturally decline. Makes position healthier but for the moment confidence undermined."

Messrs. Sarupchand Prithirai have received the following cables:—

Liverpool:—All markets very vulnerable being heavily speculatively long. Heavy liquidation all markets improving technical position would buy further declines.

Weather reports more favourable, weaker Newyork stock market think further advance is probable in the long run.

New York:—Think decline cotton has corrected weakness of technical position. Affected by unfavourable reports of progress recovery plan, general liquidation market may go somewhat lower, favour 'bull' shide show, although market may decline further.

A weak over extended speculative long interest has been considerably liquidated. The recession may continue moderately further tomorrow, but we believe the administration will be consistent in their programme of inflation and that values will soon show a decided enhancement from this level.

Least Promising Acres Abandoned

INDIAN COTTON ACREAGE

Better Hedge Cotton With New Crop Contract

Bombay, July 20.

Messrs. P. Chrystal & Co. have issued the following weekly report:—

After the heavy advance of the previous week, the New York market this week has had to face a considerable amount of liquidation. The market there has had the assistance of a weaker dollar, the cross rate having gone up from 4.76 to 4.86, but closed yesterday at about 4.81. Over the week-end it was announced that the acreage reduction scheme had been successful, 9 to 10 million acres having been voluntarily given up. Simultaneously it was intimated that the processing tax of about 4.2 cents per lb. would come into operation from 1st August. Many bulls decided that the latter would nullify the bullish effect of the acreage reduction and decided to secure profits. It was also reasonably argued that the farmer had given up his least promising acres and that therefore when one tried to estimate the coming crop on the remaining acreage it would be necessary to count on a larger average yield per acre than in a normal year. During the week rains have been reported in the drought section of the Belt.

COTTON CONSUMPTION.

The consumption of cotton in the United States of America in June exceeded all past records the total for the month having been 696,000 bales or 29.000 per working day. As however it was realised that much of this must have been used to meet large speculative purchases of cloth which Millowners would wish to have completed before the introduction of the processing tax, and before shorter working hours were forced on them by legislation, the market would not have been justified in concluding that consumption at this high rate would continue beyond the end of July. As we said a week ago, caution is now advisable. After all, since the month of December, the price of cotton in America has doubled.

In Bombay the market has continued to move within very narrow limits. The demand for actual cotton has been smaller. Europe has bought very moderately. No fresh business has been reported with Japan, and China has bought practically nothing. Local Mills find very little fresh demand for their goods and mostly are content to await developments.

ACREAGE INCREASE.

Very good rainfall has been received in all the cotton growing areas and this has removed the anxiety which was being felt a week ago. Increases in acreage of 10 to 15 per cent. are reported in most districts with an even larger increase in irrigated areas. Prospects for the next Indian crop are now quite bright.

Of the remaining supply of old crop Indian cotton a smaller than usual percentage is of desirable quality and we believe it will pay merchants to hold this cotton hedged with new crop contracts, which are quoted at a substantial carrying premium.

POPULAR MAYOR OF KARACHI RESIGNS

Mr. Jamshed Mehta Will Have Nothing To Do With Municipal Administration Run On Communal Lines

KARACHI, July 20.

A suprise was sprung in the Karachi Corporation this evening when Mr. Jamshed Mehta, who has been a popular Mayor for the past 11 years, announced that he had submitted his resignation to the Commissioner in Sind stating that he and the Corporation had come to the parting of ways.

Mr. Jamshed said that the immediate cause of his resignation was that he had come to realise that the Corporation decided serious and important questions, particularly regarding high appointments, on communal lines. He personally considered that the Municipal administration on communal lines could not be efficient, but when the Corporation desired the administration to be run on such lines, the call of duty demanded that he must not be in their way, but must accept the situation in the proper spirit of goodwill and love. The House which was visibly moved then adjourned.—A. P.

RELIGIOUS NON-INTERFERENCE

Sanatan Dharma Submits Memorial To Hoare

AHMEDABAD, July 0.

The need for adequate provision for Religious Non-interference in the Fundamental Rights in the new constitution, is stressed in a Memorial presented to the Rt. Hon. Sir Samuel Hoare, the Secretary of State for India, by Mr. J. B. Durkal on behalf of the Sanatan Vedic Dharma Sabha, Ahmedabad.

The Memorial observes, 'We the Orthodox Hindus in India are intensely perturbed at the absence of provision for Religious Non-interference in the White Paper, and look with grave concern at the future consequence of a policy of drift in a matter of such vital importance to the harmony of society and the integrity of Indian cultures."

Proceeding, the memorial says, "There should be no interference, through legislature, executive or otherwise in the religious beliefs and practices of the people, and every individual should have complete freedom of conscience to act according to his own religion.'

Fearing ideas of Communism and Bolshevism in India, the memorial urges, that "the danger against which we request you to provide, is not imaginary Not only are challenges thrown in our teeth and religious plans already laid out, but there are more facts to show that the danger is real. Ideas of Communism and Bolshevism are being preached by several influential circles; and associations are formed to wreck the established order of our society. However religion being the fundamental basis of practical human morals and a force for law, discipline and order, it is the interest of the state as well as the people that it should be respected and protected."

Concluding the memorial asks the Secretary of State that "We have to respectfully submit that the Indian communities should have the right, freedom and facility to follow their own respective codes of law, to direct their own education, and to continue their own religious rites, practices and usages.

"We want strong and constitutional protection against efforts tending to the disruption of our cultures."—A. P.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN TREATY

Two Committees Busy With Details

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, July 20.

No permanent Anglo-Russian commercial treaty would be made without a settlement of the Russian debts and British claims on Russia, emphasised Lord Londonderry repying to the debate in the House of Lords on negotiations for Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement.

That question of diplomatic immunity to Russian Trade Delegation was being carefully considered

Two committees had been established, one to consider the form of the new agreement and the other to deal with the specific issue of the balance of payment between two countries. One of the main objects of the Government would be to redress as rapidly as possible the balance of payment which had hitherto been heavily adverse to Britain.

NO PROSPECTS OF AGREEMENT

Wheat Tariff Stands In Way

LONDON, July 20.

Hopes of an agreement on wheat to brighten the closing days of the World Economic Conference somewhat faded to-day. A Sub-Committee was formed this morning under the chairmanship of Mr. Morgenthau (United States) comprising representatives of Australia, Canada and Hungary on the exporters' side and France, Italy and Great Britain on the importers' side to try to reconcile conflicting views, and a joint meeting in the evening considered the proposed resolution containing five articles.

The first of these provding that importing countries are not to increase was agreed to in principle, but the second article providing for a lowering of tariffs when the specified price of wheat is attained proved to be a serious stumbling block, and the matter was referred back to experts.

A further meeting will be held to-morrow morning.—Reuter.

G. D. A. BOARD

Plea For Supplementary Examinations

A correspondent commenting on the G. D. A. Examinations, wrtes:

"Through the columns of your esteemed paper we bring to the notice of the authorities and the public the great injustice done to the students of Government Diploma in Accountancy that the plucked candidates in the said examination to be held in 1934, will have no further chance as the above examination will cease thereafter. It really entails hardship on the unfortunate students who have put in two years in colleges and especially those who have secured apprenticeship for three years with a view to complete the course.

"The Accountancy Diploma Board, Bombay, has ever been heartless to the students who have always been put to the stiffest test in marking. This last blow of the Board will greatly injure the interests of the plucked candidates.

"Should the students hope that the Accountancy Board will realize the sad plight of the candidates and will be kind enough at least to give a supplementary chance to them somewhere in November or December 1934."

JADHAV WARNS NON-BRAHMINS

KOLHAPUR, July 19.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav, M L A, has issued the following statement to the press:—

"His Excellency the Governor-General has refused to see Mahatma Gandhi and his second request has also been turned down This was not unexpected.

"Now the question arises: What next? I fancy that civil disobedience will not be resumed on the first of August. A direct vote on that point was cleverly evaded by Mr. Aney, the Acting President. I have a shrewd suspicion that the Mahatma may have some which may be brought out shortwhich may be brought oct shortly.

"The Non-Brahmin party of Bombay have always remained outside Congress politics and activities; and will not take any part in civil disobedience if it is revived again. They will not join any other movement also which may be started under the auspices of the Congress, unless and until a clear mandate is given by a special conference convened for the purpose.

"I therefore, advise all the members of the Non-Brahmin Party and Non-Brahmans in general to stick to lawful methods of constitutions agitation whatever turn political activities may take in the future."—A. P.
